Science is fun!

by Jeff Nazzaro

Teachers, administrators and students gathered at the Woburn Street School Monday night for an impressive, after-school demonstration of the Wilmington School System's exciting new science curriculum.

Given the approach of the Science and Technology for Children curriculum - developed by the National Science Resources Center, the National Academy of Sciences and the Smithsonian Institution and billed as "an innovative, hands-on program" - it is no wonder that so many students were back in school this night, having a grand old time showing off their scientific exploits. The program, quite simply, is fun.

Monday's demonstration had the distinct appearance of the traditional science fair, where children pick a topic and create visual displays to go along with their newly acquired knowledge. But this was not a fair, nor any kind of special project - it was everyday science class for first through fifth graders at the Woburn Street.

"It's a lot of fun," fifth grader Kate Lynne Lyons summed up, calling the hands-on approach (in this case terrariums demonstrating different ecosystems) better than reading from a textbook.

"It's pretty cool," added classmate Brad Shattuck. "I've never done any science like this - hands-on where we get to deal with animals like this."

And the teachers like it, too. "This is the first year we're doing this, so we're very enthusiastic," third grade teacher Ann Mulak said. "And the kids really love it, too."

Mulak's colleague, Sandy Arciero, who also teaches third grade and was a member of the science curriculum committee responsible for adopting the new program for this year, said "It's excellent. The students are really enthusiastic and they can't wait to begin the new unit of study."

The curriculum provides two units per grade level, with students alternating between the two on a term basis.

Grade three, for example, is engaged in plant growth and development, and chemical tests. To see plant growth, third graders last week planted Wisconsin

Fast-Grow seeds of the brassica family. Just seven days later, the sprouts are over an inch tall.

The students will then study bees and pollination, watch their plants grow, harvest their seeds and replant them, completing a full growth and harvest cycle.

Other grades are studying such topics as organisms, weather, life cycles, balancing and weighing and electricity.

These units not only encourage participatory learning, but also the integration of science with mathematics, language arts, social studies and art. Indeed, students have prepared reports, charts and graphs, pictures and surveys to go along with their new science curriculum.

"It's excellent," said Woburn Street Principal Kate Conway. "The whole idea of hands-on has the children absolutely thrilled."

The Science and Technology for Children program has been supported by the School-Business Partnership and that organization's president, Frank Sullivan, and through a mini-grant by the Woburn Street School PAC.

Lost & found: $2500 in cash!

by Jeff Nazzaro

It's one of those questions that usually come up only in freshman ethics class in college: you stumble across an unmarked envelope in a parking lot. You pick it up. That envelope is filled with money. And no one sees. What do you do?

If you are Nancy Kelley, of Sandown, N.H., it's simple - you turn it in to the police.

Friday afternoon, Kelley found such an envelope - containing $2,500 in cash - in the North Wilmington parking lot and promptly gave it over to Wilmington Deputy Police Chief Bernard Nally.

Minutes before, a Billerica woman, no doubt fearing the worst, had placed a call to Nally - just in case. In this case, thanks to Kelley, human nature came up aces and at least one person breathed a $2,500 sigh of relief.

On a similar note, police are still looking for the owner of another packet of cash found in Wilmington. This one, a bank envelope containing "a sizable amount of money," was left by a woman last Tuesday in D'Angelos sandwich shop at the Wilmington Plaza.

The woman apparently thought she had no money with her to pay for an order. Instead, the wad she was carrying somehow found its way into the sandwich bag she left on the counter.

Honest employees, discovering the woman's error, tried to locate her before turning the money over to police.

"By the time [the employees] realized what [the woman] had left, she was gone," Nally said.

Police are still seeking the owner of the money. A store videotape shows the inadvertent transaction, but is not clear enough to identify the woman. However, Nally said, the tape could be used to determine who didn't leave the money, should an impostor attempt to claim it.

Wilmington's Debbie Gray inventories some of the 1,396 cases of Girl Scout cookies labeled for distribution in town. At twelve boxes per case, some 16,752 boxes - including 6,216 of the ever popular thin mint - and close to half a million cookies occupied the Fourth of July Headquarters Wednesday (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

B.K. set to open

Lil Hoolihan is 95 year old. She lives on Forest Street in Wilmington. But more importantly she is a big Whopper fan. Tuesday she will be the first customer and guest of honor at the Burger King opening at Wilmington's newest fast food restaurant. The grand opening is set for 5 p.m.. Rep. Jim Miceli will cut the ribbon and Lil will lead the way.

This Burger King is owned by Wilmington's Bill Frey. He has been busy in recent days hiring as many Wilmington people as possible and still has openings for about 50 full and part time positions. Wilmington resident wishing to work for Bill are asked to apply in person from 3 - 6 p.m. weekdays at the Rt 129 location.

Hours of operation are still tentative depending on business, but current plans call for week days 7 a.m. - 11 or 12 p.m. and weekends until 12 or 2 a.m. with the dining room closing at midnight, leaving the drive thru open.

This is the kitchen of the orphanage at Bonyotte, Haiti. It is powered by propane (when available) for cooking basic meals. A Wilmington couple spent their vacation helping to improve the building at that orphanage with a group from Grace Chapel. Additional photos and their story on page 5.

BEWARE EXCESS 403(b) CONTRIBUTIONS

The 403(b) retirement plan utilized at non profit institutions like hospitals and schools can present an obstacle to doctors, professors and others who want to maximize their retirement contributions. That's because it is offset by contributions to other retirement plans.

The annual limits for a 403(b) contribution is generally $9,500. For most other retirement plans, like a Keogh for the self-employed, the limit is $30,000. If the professional has self-employment income aside from what's earned at the nonprofit institution and wants to put $30,000 into a Keogh, he or she cannot contribute at all to the 403(b). To contribute $9,500 to the 403(b), only $20,500 could go into the Keogh. The rules apply to anyone who controls more than half of his or her own company, the IRS explains.

But if any of these doctors, teachers or administrators worked in a for-profit organization, they could contribute the full amount to a Keogh for self-employment income plus invest in the company plan.

Easter Seal Camp

The Massachusetts Easter Seal Society is accepting applications for staff positions for this summer at Agassiz Village, a camp in West Poland, Maine. The Easter Seal Unit operates four, two week sessions for physically disabled children between six and 15 years old.

Registered nurses and students enrolled in special education and allied health programs are encouraged to apply. Experience with physically disabled children is also desirable.

The camp is located in a rustic atmosphere on 650 acres of land at Thompson Lake. Activities include swimming, archery, arts and crafts, wheelchair sports, a ropes course and nature activities. Many of the activities for the disabled campers are integrated with those of the able bodied children at the camp.

For more information contact Agassiz Village, 238 Bedford St., Suite 8, Lexington, MA 02173 (617)860-0200.

When is a gift not a gift?

After meeting all of the requirements and making an appointment, getting a babysitter for our six year old son (no children or pets allowed), we sat through a high pressure sales pitch by no less than three different salesmen. After it was clear we were not interested in purchasing a travel club membership, we were then escorted to a private area away from other potential customers to collect our "free gift." According to our scratch ticket, we had scratched a 4 $$$$ prize category. To our surprise we were informed that we were winners of the 3 $$$ prize category! Their explanation for this was that the word "series" means "in a row." We disagree! For example, the Toronto Blue Jays Baseball Team won the world "series" and they did not do it four games in a row! One dictionary defines a series as "occurrences." In the instruction in the original letter sent to us, we Going on vacation? A Wilmington couple did.

Consider a working vacation in Haiti

by Jeff Nazzaro

In most political arenas - be they home or abroad, provincial or worldly - it is often the children involved who are left out in the cold.

The tiny nation of Haiti, one of the poorest in the world, offers no small exception. While news of legal and illegal Haitian immigration to the U.S., the overthrow of the Aristide presidency, the presence of U.S. troops have captured national headlines, the plight of a nation's people, 75 percent of which live below the absolute poverty line established by the World Bank, go often tragically unnoticed.

And it is the children who suffer. In Haiti, roughly 37 percent of children under the age of five are reported to be moderately or severely underweight. And one in every ten born does not live to see his or her first birthday.

But hope and help exist in the form of Bless the Children of Haiti, Inc., an organization dedicated to meeting the extreme needs faced by neglected and abandoned children in Haiti.

Last month, a Wilmington couple joined BTCOH for a week of sharing and caring as part of a group sponsored by Grace Chapel of Lexington.

Bob and Donna Tilton spent the week of Feb. 17-26 (school vacation week - Donna is a vocational counselor) with a group ranging in age from 12 to 77 but sharing a common bond: a fervent desire to help Haiti's forsaken children.

Taking only carry-on bags for themselves, the group checked two 70-pound sea bags each with food, clothing and school supplies for the children - as well as their hearts, minds and backs.

In return, they got, according to the Tiltos, "a very rewarding, eye-opening experience."

The eye-opener was that for the Tiltos, who have made similar trips to other third-world, western hemisphere nations, "the poverty is striking."

Haiti, which is about the size of Rhode Island, crams seven million people onto the half of island it shares with the Dominican Republic. This population density, couple with a severely crippled economic system, yields some frightening statistics.

According to UNICEF, half the population does not have reasonable access to health services, 62 percent is without safe water, and 79 percent does not have access to proper sanitation.

Many of the children who survive these imposing conditions become neglected or abandoned outright. Massive and horrifying slums proliferate the capital city of Port-au-Prince, home to 2.5 million Haitians.

One such area, called City Soleil (or Sun City) by the French-English Creole speaking populace, is the worst such slum the Tiltos have seen anywhere.

There, "little naked kids scavenging on a dump with the pigs for food" is the standard bill of fare.

But according to the Tiltos, BTCOH, located 26 miles outside of the capital, in Bonyotte, offers real hope, real help.

"The children look much better since being taken in," Donna said. "We really both feel blessed that we were able to go, and we'd go again."

Currently, 50 children are provided with love, encouragement and hope at BTCOH's rudimentary orphanage. The youngsters there have been taken in based on the availability of parental care, physical health, and the adequacy of resources at the orphanage. And of course, there is never enough. For the small amount taken in, thousands more suffer.

With that in mind, one project the Tiltos group undertook was the laying out of a trench for a 16 x 30 foot addition to the orphanage's facilities (they also constructed 12, eight-foot church benches and slapped 15 gallons of paint onto orphanage buildings).

The orphanage was founded in 1988 by the then-70-year-old Massachusetts resident Marion Austin and Haitian Franklin Val with a goal of caring for and educating needy children in Haiti.

With labor and funding from friends in the U.S., Austin and Val prepared the facilities for the children at the site of a school and church run by the latter. Additions included the digging of an artesian well for clean water and concrete floors for housing in school rooms.

They also gathered sponsors willing to donate $20 each month for food, clothing, tuition and school supplies for each child. By the end of the next year, the doors were open and the orphanage had 39 residents.

That same year, BTCOH was formally established as a U.S.

not-for-profit organization headquartered in Winchester, Mass. and with boards of directors in Haiti and the United States.

For more information on humanitarian trips to Haiti, such as the one the Tiltos made, or to make tax deductible contributions or donations of non-perishable food items or children's light-weight clothing, feel free to contact Bless the Children of Haiti, Inc., 60C Lake St., Winchester, MA 01890, (617) 729-2818.

This well is 40 feet deep and was sunk by previous teams from BTCOH. It is one of very few clean water sources available in the country.

A market just outside a Catholic Church in Port-au-Prince has hundreds of brass and copper kettles and plastic coolers for sale, all just jumbled together. Other markets sell everything imaginable, all unattainable to the average Haitian.

In a world of fast food, quick copies, and rush, rush, rush... Anastasia's is proud to stand apart.

Do-it-yourself shops can't compare with Anastasia's. Ann Panagiotopoulos, owner of the shop, is pleasant, and patient, and willing to do whatever it takes to help you choose what's right for you and your home. Some customers bring wallpaper samples, swatches and measurements to the shop, others take advantage of Ann's free in-home consultations. Whichever they choose, her customers get high-quality products, "at a fair price," says Ann, "and when I run a sale, you know it's a good price!"

Anastasia's Curtains and Gifts carries beautiful ready-made and custom curtains and draperies, shades (verticals, blinds, duettes, pleated), a full line of Kirsch drapery rods and hardware, Waverly

Wilmington Vacuum Cleaners - conveniently located at Colonial Park Mall

"If I sell something, I fix it!" says Jim MacDonald, owner of Wilmington Vacuum Cleaners. What's that... you didn't buy your vacuum from him? Bring it in anyway. Jim works on all makes and models, with an average turnaround time of 2-4 days for parts or repairs.

Looking for a new machine? Wilmington Vacuum Cleaners sells Royal, Eureka, Oreck, Hoover, Panasonic, and Sanitaire models, as well as their parts and supplies. Prices range from $29 for a carpet sweeper, to about $500 for the top of their Royal line. Jim says that upright models are the most popular right now, but he also has several canister styles to choose from. The shop will take trade-ins on certain models, and also sells used machines.

Suffering from springtime allergies? Why not try one of the new models with electrostatically charged bags and filters. These models are designed to remove pollen, dust, and even dust mites from the vacuum exhaust. The Royal model claims to remove particles as small as one micron in size!

Wilmington Vacuum Cleaners is located at 35 Lowell St., in the Colonial Park Mall. They're open Monday thru Friday: 8:30 - 5:30; and Saturday: 8:30 - 4. Gift certificates are available and they offer free layaway.

Sewer rates will go down, for now

by Capt. Larz Neilson

Wilmington residents may expect changes in the MWRA sewer rates on July 1, 1995, according to Assistant Town Manager Jeff Hull.

The costs will probably go down for a period of time, and then increase.

The MWRA has been charging communities according to total population. On July 1 the charges will be based, instead, on actual sewer flow.

Jeff Hull expects the charges for Wilmington to drop, at least for a while, but he says, cities like Boston can be expected to pay attention to its sewer problems, and repair its many sewer leaks.

Ultimately, Hull says, Wilmington and other communities will be having to pay increased sewer costs.

Tom Siracusa candidate for Board of Selectmen

Authority Chairman in 1992, he was faced with an argumentative board that had lost its focus. "Issues relating to safety, and the quality of life for seniors were being put aside." Making tough decisions and working closely with his board members, a unified agenda was put in place. Today, the Board and Executive Director have made outstanding improvements for its senior tenants by working together for a common goal.

Tom understands what families are experiencing today, with unemployment, fixed incomes, the rising cost of utilities and taxes.

When asked why he keeps trying to become a Selectman he says: "I believe that I can add an experienced voice to the Board. Wilmington residents expect more from their elected officials. Cronyism, scandal and hidden agendas should not be tolerated."

Tom will bring professional expertise to the Board of Selectmen. He will work for the betterment of the community and its residents. He asks for your vote on Election Day, Saturday, April 15. "Let's not waste our votes, Election Day is the time when we can send a clear message to our elected officials."

Tom Siracusa has announced his candidacy for the Wilmington Board of Selectmen. An 11 year resident of Wilmington, Tom lives at 5 Elwood Road with his wife Bett of 20 years and their four children; Tom Jr., 19, Jennifer 18, Daniel 9 and Elizabeth 8. Tom Jr. is enlisted in the Army and is currently stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C. He has been employed for 20 years as a senior engineer at Wilmington based Dynamics Research Corp. He is currently a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Sons of Italy. He served on the Wilmington Housing Authority from 1991 to 1993. Elected

Will benefit every high school student

Mini grants announced

by Peggy Kane

The Wilmington High School PAC has announced the institution of its mini-grants for Educational Excellence program. The PAC's philosophy that a well rounded high school experience offers diverse and enriching opportunities for our students and its realization of the current fiscal restraints resulted in the mini-grants program. The intention is to support the high school teaching staff by funding activities and supplies which would otherwise not be available to students.

This year, using funds raised through a highly successful raffle calendar, the PAC was able to provide funding for:

*Five scholarships for graduating seniors

*One year enrollment in College View, which includes use of a computer and accompanying software.

*Electronic dictionaries for the English Department

*Microscope slides for the Biology Department

*State of the Art video discs for the physics labs

*Computer software for chemistry labs

*Video tapes for the physical Ed Department

*Multiple copies of a book for the Reading Department

*Two computer programs and calculators for the resource room

*A new display board for the Art Department

*Audio light doors for the auditorium lights

*A food recipe analysis software program for the Food Services Department.

Every one of our high schools students will benefit from some aspect of this program as the attempt was made to award in a variety of content areas. The enthusiasm with which the staff received the program was gratifying. We congratulate each winner. The PAC thanks everyone who contributed to the success of last year's event. We look forward to being able to enlarge the program in the coming year.

Anthony LaRosa promoted

Anthony C. LaRosa, of Wilmington has been promoted to the position of assistant vice president with Century Bank. The announcement was made recently by Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Century Bank and Trust Company, Marshall M. Sloane.

Mr. LaRosa will be responsible for the financial reporting and analysis for the Bank's shareholders, regulators and management. He has been with Century Bank since 1989.

He grew up in Peabody and earned a bachelor of science degree from Northeastern University. After working in public accounting for three years, he obtained his CPA license. He lives in Wilmington with his wife, Susan and his son, Andrew.

Doris M. Olson formerly of Wilmington, Tewksbury

Mrs. Doris M. (Wilkins) Olson, 66, a recipient of the Boy Scouts of America "Silver Beaver Award," died Saturday morning, March 4, 1995 at the home of her daughter in Tyngsboro, after an extended illness. She was the wife of Ralph Olson.
 Born in Somerville, May 14, 1928, she was the daughter of the late Louis and Bertha (Westlyn) Wilkins. She was raised in Wilmington and lived most of her life in Tewksbury prior to moving to Bath, N.H. Failing health forced her to return to Tyngsboro.
 She attended elementary school in North Reading and graduated from Wilmington High School with the Class of 1946. She later attended Lowell Commercial College.
 As her family grew, she became very active in community affairs. With the help of her husband, she had a seven year association with Camp Fire Girls and served on the board of deacons at the Tewksbury Congregational Church for five years. She was a devoted leader to the Greater Lowell Council #238, Boy Scouts of America and co-founded the Cub Scouts Day Camp. She participated in many Scout training sessions, from N.H. to New Mexico and was the first female member of the B.S.A. Executive Board. She was a recipient of the Wamesit District Award the the Silver Beaver Award.
 In 1994, she received the Caregiver of the Year Award from North County Home Health Agency. While in Tewksbury she was a member of the Tewksbury Congregational Church, and for the past few years, she was a member of the Pawtucket Congregational Church.

 In addition to her husband, who is confined to the E.N. Rogers Veterans Hospital, she is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Nancy E. and William Dorazio of Tyngsboro, with whom she made her home, Susan C. and Kenneth Leigh of Lowell; three sons and daughters-in-law, Robert C. and Suzanne (Johnson) Olson of Virginia, Jim S. and Susan (Becey) Olson of Dracut and John F. and Susan (Spinelli) Olson of Bow, N.H.; two sisters, Lois Reid of Lowell and Joan Fadden of Vermont; one brother Raymond Wilkins of Pelham, N.H. and 17 grandchildren.
 She was also mother of the late Edwin Alan Olson and sister of the late Richard L., Robert C. and Ralph Wilkins.
 Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home with the Rev. David Williams presiding. Burial followed in Tewksbury Cemetery.
 Memorial contributions to the Windows of Faith Fund, Pawtucket Congregational Church, 15 Mammouth Rd., Lowell, MA 01854, or the charity of donor's choice will be appreciated.

Philip G. Quinn, Sr. Tewksbury volunteer fireman

Philip G. Quinn Sr., 73, a well known resident of Tewksbury, died Friday, March 3, 1995 at Saints Memorial Medical Center. He was the widower of Clara P. (Hogan) Quinn, who died September 6, 1994.
 He was born in Brighton, August 9, 1921, the son of the late Ernest and Elizabeth (Coughlin) Quinn. He was raised in Belmont but lived in Tewksbury for the past 43 years.
 During World War II he served with the U.S. Army in the African and European theaters.
 Prior to retirement, he was employed in the automotive parts department of the Wilmington Ford dealership.
 He was a communicant of St. Dorothy's Church and a member of the church choir. In earlier years he served as a call fireman for the Tewksbury Volunteer Fire Department.
 Mr. Quinn is survived by three daughters and two sons-in-law, Ms. Catherine M. Quinn of Tewksbury, Dorothy and Andre Chandonnet of Lowell and Elizabeth A. and Gregory Ashley of Tewksbury; four sons, and three daughters-in-law, Philip G. and Patricia (DeCoursey) Quinn Jr. of Reading, Ernest A. and Terri (Ellington) Quinn of Vernon, Ct., Michael J. and Jacqueline (Laurent) Quinn of East Amherst, N.Y., Joseph C. Quinn of Methuen; one sister, Loretta O'Neill of Belmont and nine grandchildren.
 He was also the brother of the late Joseph Quinn and twin of the late Paul Quinn.
 A funeral mass was celebrated Monday, March 6 in St. Dorothy's Church, Wilmington. Burial followed in Tewksbury Cemetery. Memorials to the YWCA of Lowell, 206 Rogers Street, Lowell, MA 01852 will be appreciated.
 Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Charles E. Ryan employed by Millipore, at 33

Charles E. "Chuck" Ryan, 33, died Saturday morning, March 4, 1995 at Mass. General Hospital from complications of leukemia, diagnosed last November. He was the husband of Catherine A. "Cathie" (DeAngelis) Ryan, with whom he celebrated a seventh year wedding anniversary February 6.
 Born in Lowell August 6, 1961 he was the son of Charles W. Ryan of Tewksbury and the late Joan (Consavage) Ryan. He lived most of his life in Tewksbury, moving to Chelmsford and finally to Litchfield, N.H. three years ago.
 Until illness forced him to stop in November, he was employed as an accounts payable coordinator for the Millipore Company in Bedford. He had also worked as an apprentice H.V.A.C. technician.
 While in Tewksbury he was a communicant of St. William's Church.
 In addition to his wife and father, he is survived by three sons, Gabriel and Jeremy Fisher and Matthew Ryan; two sisters and a brother-in-law, Linda and Daniel Barnhart of Billerica and Donna Smith of Tewksbury; his mother and father-in-law, Ann (Hancox) and Larry DeAngelis of Chelmsford; three brothers-in-law, Bill DeAngelis of Chelmsford, John DeAngelis of Lowell and Tom DeAngelis of Hudson, N.H. and several nieces and nephews.
 His funeral was held at 9 a.m. Wednesday from the Tewksbury Funeral Home followed by a funeral mass in St. William's Church. Burial took place in St. Mary's Cemetery. Memorial contributions to the Leukemia Society of America, 180 Rustcraft Rd., Dedham, MA 02026 will be appreciated.

Miceli reappointed to Ways & Means Committee

Representative James Miceli who represents both Tewksbury and Wilmington in The General Court has been named by Speaker Charles Flaherty to serve on The Ways and Means Committee during the 1995-96 session.
 The Ways and Means Committee is considered to be the most powerful committee in the legislature.
 The Ways and Means Committee deals with all of the finances pertaining to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; this includes all appropriation bills including the Massachusetts Budget.
 Representative Miceli had previously served six years as a member of this prestigious committee.
 Miceli was also reappointed to the Rules Committee which is chaired by the Speaker of the House. Representative Miceli said "these appointments will continue to insure my effectiveness on behalf of the people in Tewksbury and Wilmington."

Wilmington's Keltic Kids, 12-year-old twins Daniel (l.) and Patrick and 17-year-old Grainne are world class traditional Irish musicians with an active local tour schedule and a new album on compact disc and cassette.

You think you're busy around St. Patty's?

by Jeff Nazzaro

The phrase "March Madness" takes on an entirely new connotation for Wilmington's Dan Murphy and family. The Murphy children, twins Patrick and Daniel, 12, and Grainne, 17, comprise the Keltic Kids; practitioners of world-class traditional Irish music.

The Kids, needless to say, are booked solid for the month of March, with St. Patrick's Day week looking particularly hectic and capped by an day-long performance schedule for the 17th.

The St. Patty's Day billings are highlighted by a performance for Congressman Joe Kennedy at the Cambridge V.F.W., followed by a public performance there at 8:45 p.m.

Prior to that, the Kids will be, among other places, performing at the Rotunda at Faneuil Hall, Boston, from 12-2 p.m. on March 14 and 16.

And in the midst of it all, the Keltic Kids have released a self-titled album on compact disc and cassette.

The new recording features a lively assortment of jigs and reels played by the kids - Grainne on fiddle, Patrick on the tin whistle, and Daniel on wooden flute and bodhran, a handheld drum - accompanied by well-known local pianist Peter Barnes, of Lincoln.

The album offers a spirited, catch-all glimpse into the world of traditional Irish music, performed by three of the genre's very best players. All of the Keltic Kids are North American champions on their respective instruments, with Grainne ranked an impressive third in the world on fiddle.

The record also delves into the world of spoken word, with Dan offering up two poignant poems to his children's musical accompaniment.

Dan Murphy, who teaches English at Lowell High School is a highly-acclaimed poet and the recent recipient of a statewide writing contest sponsored by the Massachusetts Field Center for Teaching and Learning for his poem titled "A Cambodian Girl's Lesson."

Murphy has published a book of poetry called The Fractured Emerald, and his poems have also appeared in numerous national and international magazines and locally in "The Interrupters News & Review." In addition, a new book of verse is planned for this year.

On "Keltic Kids," Murphy contributes Irish memorials: "Christmas in Ireland" was penned in memory of Mary Sweeney, County Cork and Dorchester, MA, while "The Widow McNamara" is for his great grandmother, 1833-1929, Whitegate, County Clare, Ireland.

The Keltic Kids will hold a special concert, hailed as "Our Grand Release," at the Boott Mills Special Events Center in Lowell to give the album a formal send-off.

"Keltic Kids" CDs and cassettes of can be purchased at local shops, including Tower Records in Burlington, all six Irish Cottage locations, Strawberries in Lawrence, the Andover Bookstore, and Record Lane and Wells Emporium, both in Lowell, or by calling the Murphy's at 657-5486.

Wilmington students participate in VICA contest

Ninety students from Shawsheen Tech competed March 6 at the District Competition of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA), held at Northeast Regional Vocational School, Wakefield.

First through fourth place finishes at the district contest go on to the Mass. Skill Olympics April 27 to 29 in Marlboro and Framingham; the gold medal winners at the state competition represent Mass. at the National Skill Olympics in June. In Mass., the district contests are written tests of technical expertise and VICA organization knowledge; the state and national contests are tests of practical skills. Shawsheen traditionally sends dozens to the state contest and has had national competitors in several categories every year over the last decade.

Tech students pit their skills against classmates to win one of three spots given to each school in each of 30 competition categories. Competitors from Wilmington are:

Wilmington: Jill Branley, accounting; Lukis Mackie, air conditioning, refrigeration, Jason Gardner and Daniel Cross, air cooled gas engines; Jeff Largenton, auto machine shop; Adam Frost, auto service tech; Mandy Parent and Lisa Rivera, basic health. Adam Marazi, brick masonry; Kenny Fisher, carpentry; Heidi

Rice, commercial food trades; Sherry Milnes, cosmetology (under 500); Michelle Jodar and Joe Connor, technical drafting; Clayton Wentzel, metal fabrication; Jennifer Fantigrossi, precision machining;

Corey Catalfamo, residential plumbing; Michael Porfido, residential wiring; Kristine Zarrella, typing; Phillip Florence, welding; Casey Fredricson, word processing.

BRANSON - HEARTLAND AMERICA

Branson is considered by some as the "VE-GAS" of heartland America. Its "STRIP" is more than five miles long and most hotels are in walking distance of many theaters and attractions.

Branson is located in the beautiful Ozark Mountains with a population of 3,400. WHOLESOME family entertainment is encouraged in the area and prices of shows, parks, concessions, etc. reflect this attitude.

Branson's appeal is not limited to stage show and lights. Its three lakes offer more than 800 miles of shore line with plenty of opportunities for fishing, swimming, sailing, etc. You can horse-back ride, bungee jump or ride the Branson Scenic Railway 40 miles through the valleys and high trestles of the BEAUTIFUL OZARKS. From pirate cruises to the fascinating Box Car Willie Museum, there is plenty to experience in Branson. INDEPENDENT PACKAGES offer you flexibility to choose your own show and attractions. FAMILY FUN features shows and entertainment sure to please kids of all ages. And ESCORTED PACKAGES are pre-planned and fully escorted, giving you the most popular shows, sightseeing, and restaurants all in one price. Leave it all to us as your tour guide shares the history of the Ozarks and growth of Branson with you.

If you think you may be interested in joining a group to BRANSON, give us a call at: ALL AROUND TRAVEL, 658-2313 or 1-800-974-0106. GROUP travel is a really fun way to experience a vacation. If you are thinking of a particular destination we would be happy to assist you in any way we can.

HINT: Not really a hint - just want to wish all members of our group to New York City Easter Show a "WONDERFUL TRIP!"

Lenore F. Carroll nurses aid at Rogers Veterans Hospital

Mrs. Lenore F. (Leonard) Carroll, 63, died Wednesday evening, March 1, 1995 at Lowell General Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of Robert F. Carroll, with whom she celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary December 9, 1994.

Born in Boston January 30, 1932, she was the daughter of Violet (Vickery) Leonard of Plymouth and the late Frederick Leonard. She was raised in Jamaica Plain and lived for a short time in Billerica before moving to Tewksbury 32 years ago.

Mrs. Carroll was employed as a nurses aid at the E.N. Rogers Veterans Hospital in Bedford until illness forced her retirement. She was a member of St. William's Church.

In addition to her husband and mother, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Roger (Dianne) Blanchette of Chelmsford and Nancy Yost of Dracut; two sons, Daniel M. Carroll of Bedford and Ronald J. Carroll and his wife Josie Carroll of Tewksbury; three brothers, Frederick Leonard Jr. of Quincy, Ronald Leonard of Sandwich, and Martin Leonard of Fla; one sister, Aerial M. Foley of Plymouth; three grandchildren, Ronald D. Yost, Jasmine Carroll and Joline Carroll, and several nieces and nephews.

She was also the mother of the late Robert F. Carroll Jr. who died in 1960 and sister of the late Valarie DeGeorge and Edith Leonard.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home followed by burial in Fox Hill Cemetery, Billerica.

Garrett Anthony Theisen infant

Garrett Anthony Theisen, son of David and Anne (DeCristafaro) Theisen, of Tewksbury, died at New England Medical Center, Boston March 1, 1995.

Garret was born in Winchester Hospital February 23, 1995 and in addition to his parents, he is survived by his brothers David D. and Jacob J. Theisen both of Tewksbury; three sisters, Danielle Ann-Marie, Gabrielle Joelle Marie and Janelle Dawn Marie Theisen, all of Tewksbury; his paternal grandparents, Donald and Mary Theisen of Dubuque, Iowa; his maternal grandparents, Jerry and Anne DeCristafaro of Medford and many loving aunts, uncles and cousins.

Graveside services under the direction of Farmer and Dee Funeral Home, Tewksbury were held in Tewksbury Cemetery, Saturday afternoon, March 3.

Citizens police academy applications available

by Jeff Nazzaro

The Wilmington Police Department is set to take its Community Policing Program one step further.

The police department will be conducting a Citizens Police Academy to heighten awareness of the role of police and residents within the town.

Beginning with the last week of March, the department will host eight weekly seminars featuring various aspects of policing. Program instruction will include:

- The latest law enforcement techniques.
- Explanations of the latest drunk driving regulations.

- Domestic abuse.
- Police patrol procedure.
- Drugs. What schoolchildren are being taught in the DARE Program. The academy will be held at the Swain School, days, nights or both and probably on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays, depending upon the preference of applicants.

The application (below) is due by March 15.

Seating is limited to 20 students per session. The Wilmington Police Department retains the right to select persons allowed to attend the academy.

WE MAKE YOUR GOALS OUR GOALS

When we help prospective buyers locate a new home, we listen carefully to your goals. What are your criteria for selecting a neighborhood, what style of house do you prefer, what price range and floor plan meet your needs? Are there any special considerations that will go into making your decision? When we have a good picture of what you want, we will go to work as the master matchmaker to find the best property on the market for your needs.

Our agents succeed when they can make our buyers' goals their goals. Finding you the perfect home is a collaborative effort. The buyers communicate what they want, why they want it, and where compromise might be possible, and the agent listens carefully and selects the homes that come as close as possible to meeting the needs expressed. When there is trust and communication between you and the Realtor you are working with, miracles can happen! Creating these miracles for buyers and sellers is "Job #1" for us.

Stone's in the Garden

by Jackie Leszczak-Stone
The organic revolution is underway. Sensitivity to chemicals is in the news, local grocers carry organic produce, and organic food co-ops are springing up. I confess that my garden is not organic. Sure I compost almost everything, but I have also been known to use chemical fertilizers and insecticides to enhance the color of my green thumb.

How can I cure this chemical dependency and start on the path to more natural gardening techniques? Organic gardeners do it with careful planning, by understanding of the cycles of nature and attention to detail. They enrich the soil, match plants to the garden conditions and manage diseases and insects rather than try to eradicate them.

Soil enrichment means compost, compost, compost. Recommended compost levels range from nine to 12 cubic yards per 10 x 10 garden each year. (Put that in your wheel barrow and push it!) Since it may be difficult for home gardeners to obtain this much compost other organic soil amendments may be necessary. Dried blood meal is high in nitrogen. Add rock phosphate for phosphorous and wood ash or fish emulsion for potassium. Old fashioned manure is all around great stuff for your garden, but it should be composted first to avoid burning plants. If you don't already maintain a compost pile, start one. It's good for our landfills as well as your garden. Crop rotation can also help avoid depleting the soil of minerals and provides the added benefit of minimizing disease.

Many modern plant varieties are disease and insect resistant. Their use can avoid the need for chemical fungicides and insecticides. Many insecticides kill both beneficial and problem bugs and may effect other friendly garden residents. Birds, frogs, bats and beneficial insects (bees and wasps, lady bugs, lace wings, praying mantis and dragon flies) help to keep grubs, mosquitoes and other pests in control.

Organic gardeners must understand the life cycle of insect pests and diseases. They know when insects emerge and hunt for them. Insect picking (dropping the captured pest into a jar of soapy water) can be a very rewarding garden task (got cha!). Plant diseases can be controlled by selecting the best site for your garden. Watering in the morning helps avoid fungus growth and removal of diseased plants minimizes the spread of many infections.

There are many resources available to the organic gardener. Rodale Press, creator of Organic Gardening Magazine and the New Organic Flowering Gardening, also publishes many books on the topic. My favorite is Rodale's "Garden Problem Solver," by Jeff Ball.

Tending an organic garden can make us aware of the delicate balance between nature and man.

But it cannot happen overnight. Like everything in the garden it takes patience and practice to get it right.

Do you have questions or favorite solutions to garden problems? Would you like to see your garden featured in the column? Send your ideas, comments, and questions to the Town Crier, PO Box 939, Wilmington, MA 01887 or call 658-2346. Select questions will be answered in this column.

WCTV reveals "Earth Revealed"

Wilmington Community Television, Inc. has announced the arrival of a new program series from the Annenberg/CPB Collection to begin airing on WCTV in March.

"Earth Revealed" examines how the seemingly constant features of our planet's landscape - mountains, rivers and shorelines, are being worn away and rebuilt again by powerful, often invisible forces. This introduction to geology explores how scientific theories are developed as well as how our activities today impact Earth's continuing evolution. Watch for "Earth Revealed" on local cable channel 30 in Wilmington; Tuesdays at 6 p.m. and Saturdays at 2 p.m.

For more information on the Annenberg CPB Collection, coordinated materials, or other college credit courses, call WCTV at 657-4066, or 1-800-LEARNER.

AARP to meet next Wednesday

The Wilmington Area Evening Chapter of AARP is inviting anyone over age 50 to be on hand Wednesday evening, March 15 at 7:30 at the Winchester Family Care Center, Rte. 62 (Salem Street) Wilmington, for a most informative meeting with Jean LeFavour of Stillwater Garden as guest speaker. Jean is a local perennial grower and garden designer and has engaged the gardening challenge since 1983. Gardening's simple ingredients: plants, soil, sun, water, and fertilizer do not always produce the anticipated results; and the variables are what make gardening such a widely chosen vocation.

LeFavour, following hip replacement surgery in 1994 is reentering her garden business with new approaches for low maintenance plantings and easier gardening for those mildly or moderately incapacitated. "What's New Under The Sun" will encourage different approaches to today's gardens.

Light refreshments will be served following the guest speaker. For more information on joining the new Evening Chapter, call 508-658-2917 or 508-658-2938.

KIWANIS GREAT RUBBER DUCK RACE

What is the Rubber Duck Race?

It's only the most exciting race held for charity in Wilmington since the quackery was invented!

How the race works:

On April 22, 1995 little yellow rubber ducks will be launched into Silver Lake of the Shawsheen River on Rt. 129 @ the Wilmington / Billerica Town Lines for a race to the finish line. The ducks will be numbered. The numbers correspond to the ticket numbers which you can purchase. If the duck with your number on it crosses the finish line first, you win the Grand Prize, $1000.00. Consolation prizes will be awarded for the next 2 Ducks to finish.

Rubber Duckie Sponsorships

Rubber Duckie Sponsorships cost $5.00 each. Purchase a Family of 12 duckies for $50.00 and receive 2 Free Duckies.

Rubber Duck Race Proceeds:

The Kiwanis Club of Wilmington, Inc. is part of a worldwide service organization of individuals who want to improve their communities. As a group, we achieve what we cannot do alone. Kiwanis perform service beyond the capability of the individual: assistance to the aging, the needy, and the youth; improvement of community. All individuals of good standing in the community are invited to join Kiwanis. We Meet Monday nights @ 7:00PM throughout the year at Harrows Restaurant Rt. 28 in Reading, MA.

Wilmington Library notes

Museum of Fine Arts: Slide show, Thursday, March 9 at 7 p.m. It's not too late to call the library at 658-2967 if interested in the slide show, "Introduction to the Museum of Fine Arts." The program, given by Museum volunteers, will be held in the library's conference room at no charge to the public. Coffee and light refreshments provided by the Wilmington Council for the Arts and the Memorial Library will round out a pleasant evening.

Why not combine this event with that weekly trip to the library to check out new books? While here, make plans to reserve one of the free museum passes and pay a visit to Boston's world-class art museums.

Parents and Students and the Sats: Thursday, March 14, at 7 p.m. The Princeton Review is providing a free educational program for the community in the library's conference room on Tuesday evening, March 14 at 7 p.m. All parents and students interested in learning about the structure and format of the SAT and in having an overview of its relationship to college admissions are invited. This free seminar has been held at other public libraries including those in North Andover, Peabody, and Boston.

Women's History Month: March 1-31, International (Working) Women's Day, March 8. The library has many interesting books relating to women and their place in United States history and in the world. Among recent titles are: American Mom: Motherhood, Politics and Humble Pie by Mary Kay Blakely; Divorced, Beheaded, Survived: A Feminist Reinterpretation of the Wives of Henry VIII by Karen Lindsey; Moving Beyond Words by Gloria Steinem.

Reflections of Eden: My Years with the Orangutans of Borneo by Birute Galdikas; True North: A Memoir by Jill Kerr Conway; Women's Work: The First 20,000 Years: Women, Cloth and Society in Early Times by E.J.W. Barber.

Books on tape: The library is building up its collection of Books on Tape which have become so useful and popular. Recognizing their importance for those who are visually impaired, the Wilmington Lions Club has just donated $300.00 to the library for the purpose of adding to this vital collection. Our thanks to the Lions Club for the continued support of the library's outreach services to the community.

Pack 136 Tiger Cubs made a visit to the Wilmington Police and Fire Departments recently. Admiring their official police badges are Ed Pisari, Mathew Olson and Andrew Otovic. At the police station they were incarcerated briefly, were finger printed, checked out a cruiser and the new weight room. Then the desk sergeant used the "bat phone" to warn the firefighters of their impending visit. At the fire station they toured the ambulance and a couple trucks. The visit had to be cut short as an emergency cropped up. The Tigers never got a chance to try sliding down the pole.

Still time to nominate a "Good Guy"

Time's running out for the Good Guy nominations. The deadline is approaching to submit nominations for this year's Good Guy Award. All entries, to be eligible must be postmarked no later than Friday, April 1, 1995.

Nominations should be sent to the Good Guy Committee, P.O. Box 147, Wilmington, MA and should include reasons why "your good guy or gal" should be selected.

The Good Guy Award is annually given to an outstanding citizen in our community (non-political) male or female, who gives of themselves to make the community a better place in which to live. The award will be presented at the 29th annual Good Guy Banquet Friday, May 12 at K of C Hall, Wilmington.

This will be the last opportunity to take a few minutes and let the Committee know who you feel is most deserving of this year's Good Guy Award. Deadline is April 1.

Congressional Arts competition

U.S. Rep. Peter G. Torkildsen is urging 6th District high school students to submit entries for the 1995 Congressional Arts Competition to be judged on Friday, March 24. Submissions should be delivered to Torkildsen's Salem District Office at 70 Washington St. by 5 p.m. Wednesday, March 22. The first place winner will have his or her artwork displayed for one year in the U.S. Capitol. Runners up will have their artwork displayed in Torkildsen's offices in Washington and Salem.

Students or parents with questions about the 1995 Congressional Arts Competition may call Torkildsen's Salem District Office at 508-741-1600.

Wilmington senior topics

Income taxes

Income taxes will be prepared at the Senior Center by two well trained income tax preparers, free of charge to Wilmington residents 60 and over. They will not take taxes that entail the completion of special forms. Those would be taxes of seniors with rental properties or large investment accounts. We will have their services on Wednesdays only on appointment until the end of March. That will be March 29. Those who would like an appointment should call the center at 657-7595 or 658-2258.

Nutrition class

The nutrition class will be held Tuesday, March 14 beginning with weighins at 9:30 a.m. and the class at 10. This class will cover megavitamin therapy, antioxidants vitamins and disease. Where the majority of all seniors take some type of vitamins, it is wise to learn as much as possible about what effect vitamins have on other medications being taken; what the limit of vitamins should be, etc. Nutrition instructor Jean Webster is a retired nurse versed on the subject of vitamins.

The more we learn about vitamins, medications and diets the better we can take care of our health. This is a free class to all Wilmington seniors.

Dr. Casey

Podiatrist, Dr. Casey will be at the Center Wednesday, March 15 from 10 a.m. He will be treating ailments of the feet on appointment only. Call the Center for an appointment which will allow Dr. Casey to scheduled his time for the remainder of the day.

Social March 16

There are still openings for the March Therapeutic Social. It will be a dinner dance at the Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks Hall. Those who have not had a chance to sign up should call the center as soon as possible. A ham dinner with all the trimmings will be served at seven. Music for dinner and dancing will be provided. Those who arrive late do not have to worry about finding a seat, as a table number will be assigned at sign-up.

Flu season

The Department of Public Health is reminding people that the flu season is upon us now. They are warning that outbreaks of the flu with senior citizens are showing up all over the country. Influenza is highly contagious and anyone showing symptoms the usual treatment consists of bed rest, analgesics or drugs to relieve pain and reduce fever. Drink plenty of fluids. The Department of Public Health recommends vaccination for individuals 65 and older, those with heart disease, lung disease and any other chronic illness.

Anyone who has not had a flu shot can obtain one in the month of March at the nurse's office in the town hall.

Carol Bonjiono

Carol Bonjiono of Salem Prevention Center will provide a speaker on osteoporosis for March 28 from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Senior Center. She will touch on prevention of the illness.

Hockey team loses in OT

by James Pote

After playing their hearts out for three back and forth periods, the WHS ice hockey team's season ended 36 seconds into overtime when Greg LeColst scored the lone goal of the game for Masconomet on his team's 36th shot on netminder Jason Dango.

"It was an exciting game, the fans definitely got their money's worth," said WHS head coach Steve Scanlon.

"Dango was the reason why we stayed in the game. He has been doing this all year long and we needed him to have a game like this and he did," Scanlon continued.

"I was very disappointed [with the overtime goal] but it happened so quick," said Dango.

Dango confirmed that he was nervous and a little tired before the overtime period, but he also said that never before has he been so pumped up for a game. His gives that credit to the fans.

"The fans were great. I would be lying to say that I wasn't nervous before the game but when I heard the fans the nerves went away," the goaltender said.

Dango also denied rumors that he is transferring to St. John's Prep or any other school.

This state tournament game was a tale of the two players in between the two pipes. Dango was simply awesome in the nets. His counterpart, Brian Canonica, was almost as good with his 27 saves, but Dango's saves were more labeled and they came at more crucial points of the game.

In the overtime period, Masco's Brian Sennett passed the puck to teammate Andy LeColst who then dumped the puck into the Wilmington zone. Greg LeColst then brought the puck out from Dango's right corner and walked in front of the net to Dango's left in the slot area. He then slid a backhand which went back to Dango's right. Dango slid across the crease but the puck went into the corner just under his stick.

"We were disappointed but we accomplished a lot this season. We had a little scoring drought towards the end of the season which hurt, but overall we had a good season," Scanlon said.

Even though the play was kept in the Wilmington end most of the night, the Wildcats also had a few scoring opportunities themselves. The most notable was Mike Barry's in the second period.

With the minutes ticking down in a scoreless game, Barry took a shot teammate Jamie Caples tipped towards Canonica. Canonica for probably the fifth time of the game at that point, knocked the pins loose and therefore the net was moved. However, while he was doing that, Barry charged the net for the rebound and he put the puck past Canonica and his momentum carried him into the net where he collided with the netminder. The referees, who didn't call a penalty the entire game, decided that the net was moved before the puck went in.

One fan who was in the stands and happened to be at a perfect angle of where the play occurred, said that it was no doubt a goal. But alas, it was called off and the game continued to be scoreless.

In the first period, Wilmington also had a few big scoring chances. Senior forward Matt Calandrello, who Scanlon said had a great first period, had two golden opportunities. But, once again it was the tale of the two goalies.

Calandrello went in on a breakaway and decided to go to the backhand but the puck went too high and over the net.

John Considine, a talented sophomore, had another solid scoring opportunity for the Cats when he split two defensemen and moved in. But he was unable to put one past Canonica. Calandrello followed up Considine's opportunity with a shot which Canonica kicked out with a right pad save.

Sophomore Danny Abbott, who played outstanding throughout the entire game with non-stop hustle, also had a partial breakaway in the first period, but he lost control of the puck.

In the second period, Charlie Ross had a solid bid with a nice slap shot that Canonica scooped up. Barry also got off his cannon slap shot, which was also caught in mid-air.

Dango, at the other end of the building, was coming up big for Wilmington. At one point, Masco was putting on a lot of pressure and Dango came up with four straight saves on four consecutive shots that occurred in about ten seconds. He received a standing ovation.

Masco then came right back, firing two more shots on Dango. The first he kicked out with his left and then the second he kicked out with his right pad.

Dango said the most difficult save he thought he made also came in the second period. Masco had the puck behind the net and they fired it out in front. Dango slid across for the oncoming shot. The biscuit landed under a sprawled out Dango who was spread out across the crease. He knew he had it but he didn't know where it was. After the whistle blew, the puck squirted loose from a Masco player digging for it, and Dango then knew where the puck had been all of that time: underneath his right pad.

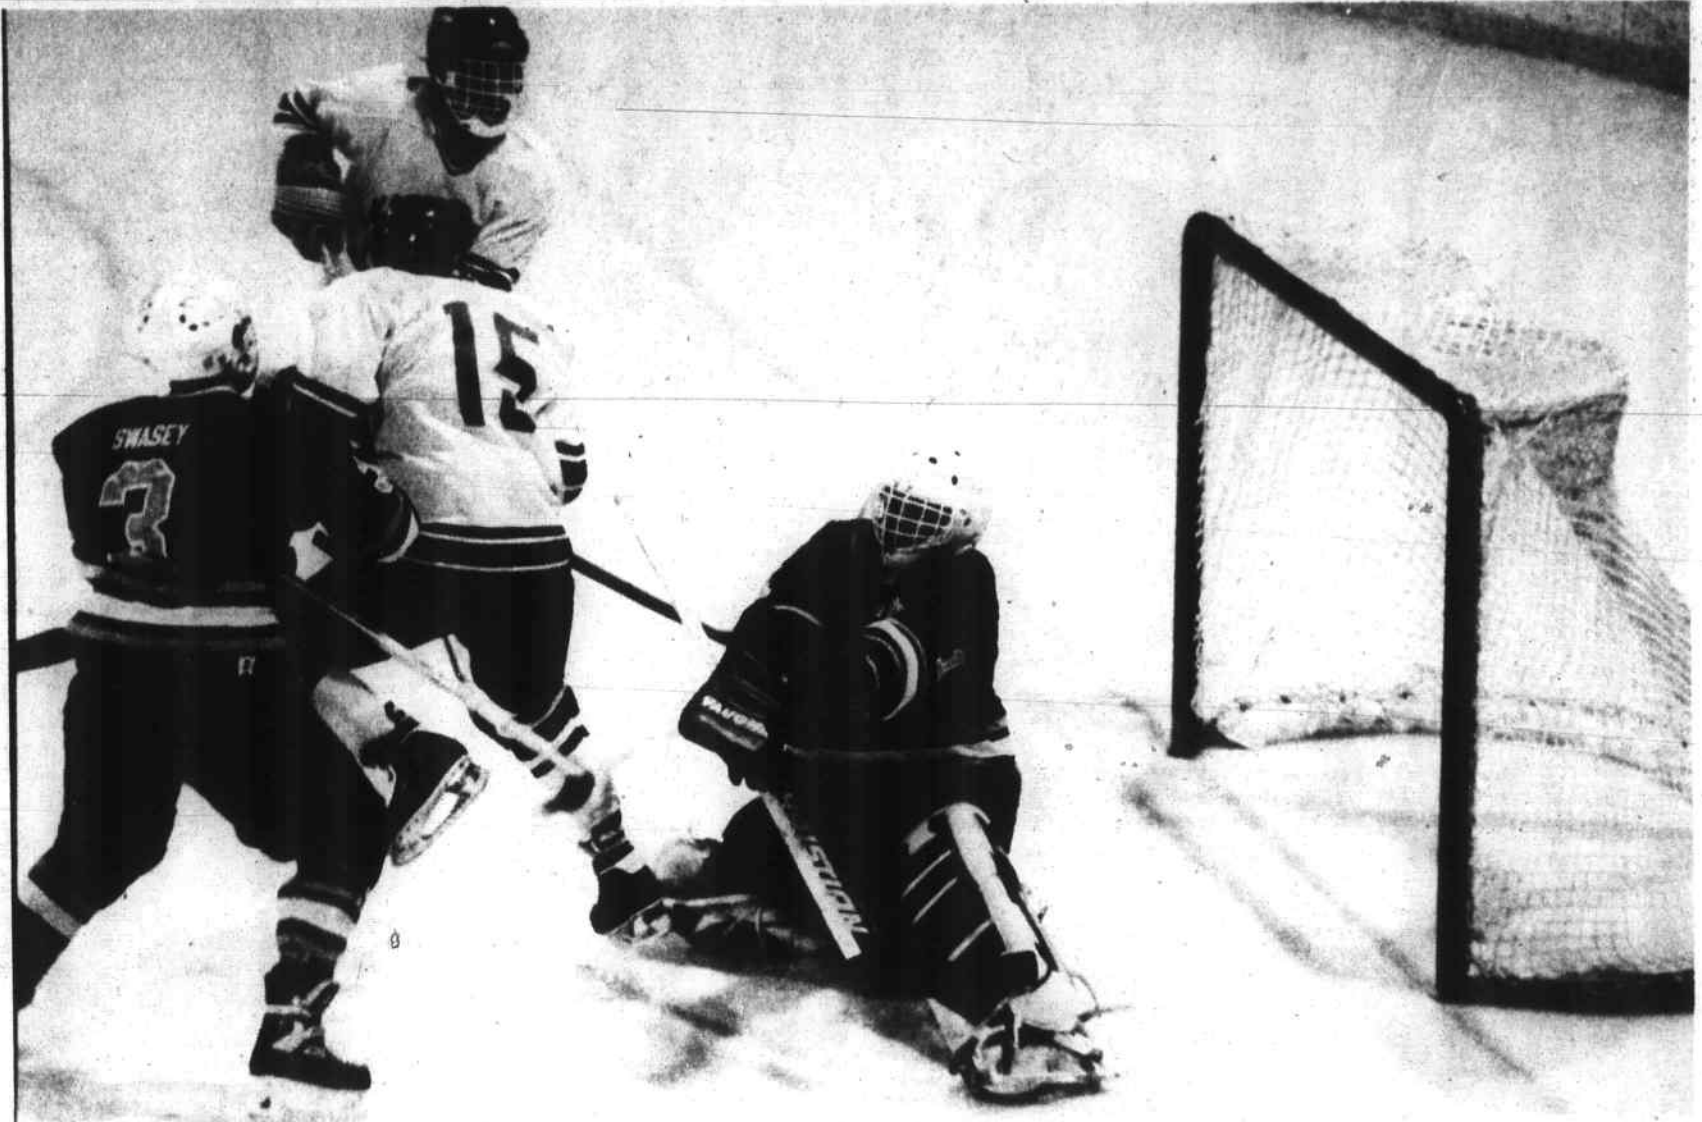

"I had no idea where it was. I knew I had it, but I just didn't know where it was," Dango said.

In the third period, it was all Masco, as they outshot the Wildcats 15-1 to give them an overall edge of 36-24. Of those 36 shots, Masco's first two lines had 22 of them while Wilmington's first two lines had just two.

"We had our scoring opportunities but they just didn't fall through. Our defensive game, with Jason and the rest of them, played pretty good. They definitely held their own," Scanlon said.

Indeed the defense did play well. Sophomore Ryan Haubner with little defensive experience, played superb all game. Junior Dave Bennett also played very well.

Haubner helped the game stay at zero when he was the lone defender on a 3-on-1 situation with just over four minutes left in the game. Haubner went to his right to attack the shooter after two quick passes, which yielded a weak shot for the Sophomore goalie Jason Dango was simply awesome in the nets for Wilmington this past weekend. A tribute to a fantastic finish for the WHS ice hockey team

WHS Hockey

Even though they had their offensive struggles towards the end of the season, the WHS hockey team had quit a season.

Last year they finished at 8-12 and this year they finished at 10-9-1. This past Saturday was the first time in five years that the hockey program made it to state tournament play.

Head coach Steve Scanlon earned coach of the year, while Mike Barry was named to the second all conference team and Dennis Torpey was named to the honorable mention team. Senior Jamie Caples, along with sophomore goalie Jason Dango and Barry and Torpey all participated in the all-star game.

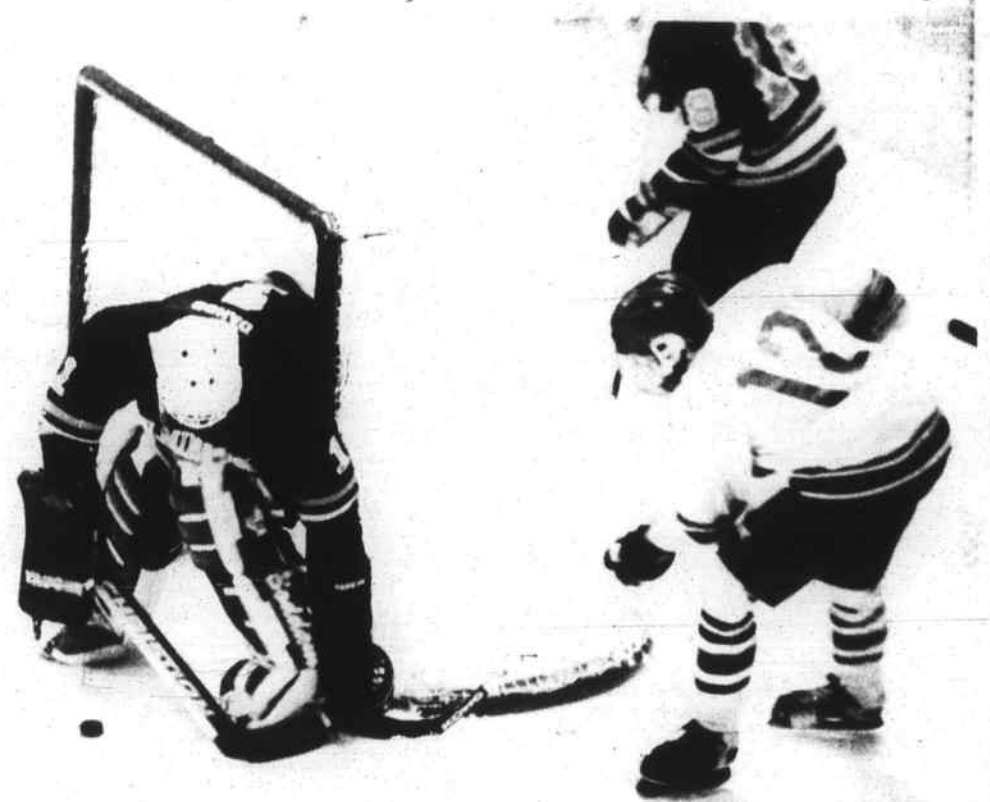

Torpey scored a goal which was assisted by Caples in the all-star game, while Caples set up Tewksbury's Andy Beasley on a beautiful assist. Dango, didn't let any goals go past him in his 14 minutes of play.

All and all it was an exciting season and most especially a great tourney game.

INSURE TO VALUE

QUESTION: As a businessman, what can I do to bring the insured value of my company property in line with inflated costs?

ANSWER: It's easy to keep paying the premiums each year and not bothering to update your coverage according to TODAY'S replacement costs. At 6% annual inflation, today's insurance protection to true value will be reduced by 50% every 12 years. You CAN do something about it. It's called an insurance appraisal.

The appraisal will bring your company's physical assets as well as real property's replacement value up to current, realistic values. Don't wait while your coverage decreases — do something about it now.

INSURING YOUR BUSINESS for loss at today's value can be done by updating your policies.

Overall, it was a successful season for girls hoop team

by James Pote
Everyone has had days. Last Wednesday the WHS girls hoop team fell into that category when it just wasn't going to be their night. They must have been too nervous.

The girls traveled to Notre Dame Academy in Tyngsboro to take on the all female school in the first round of state tournament play. NDA walked all over the Wildcats with a whopping 64-36 score. Overall though, it was a successful season.

"We had a solid season. Tonight the girls played hard but nothing went their way," said head coach Jim Tildsley.

"Notre Dame is a real good team who is very well coached. They really beat us on the boards tonight and that was the difference," continued Tildsley.

NDA opened the game up on a 9-5 run and Wilmington was able to close it to 12-9. That was the closest they ever came all night to pull this tourney win out. NDA then went on a 5-0 run and went up as much as 14 before the Wildcats closed the lead to ten at the first half buzzer at 31-21.

Freshman Rebecca Rodgers came off the bench and lead Wilmington with eight first half points. Erin Falzone followed with six and Nancy Pote had five which included the team's first five points.

With just two minutes into the second half gone by, junior all-star

Leanne Harris went down with a hip injury. She came back a few minutes later to end up with four points.

NDA kept pouring it on in the second half mostly because of Wilmington's mistakes. The Cats just couldn't mesh it together as they had multiple, multiple turnovers which lead to too many baskets for the opponents.

Meanwhile, Rodgers continued her solid game with seven more points for a team high 15. She also tossed in a three pointer in each half.

Senior center Jacqui Holloway was sorely missed in this game when she did not dress because of an injury she suffered in school.

MVC hoop All-star game to be played at WHS

Sunday, March 12 at WHS, will be the last time for fans to catch glimpse of basketball in the Merrimack Valley which is played on the WHS Parkay floor as the girls and boys annual all-star game will be played.

The kick-off will get underway at 1:00 with the girls teams facing off first. The boys will go on the court at 3:00.

Representing Wilmington for the girls will be forwards Leanne

Harris a junior and senior Erin Falzone.

Representing Tewksbury for the girls team will be junior Mandy DeRouche.

In the second game, Wilmington will send senior guards Dan Kivlehan and Dave DeSantis as well as forward Paul Bruno.

Tewksbury will send guard Brian Morris as well as forwards John Kinnon and Mike Torode.

Don't forget to watch league

MVP's as Kelly VanHuisen of Haverhill was the girls large school MVP with Diana Madruga of Lawrence as the small school MVP.

As for the boys, Matt Gibson of Andover was the large school nomination, with Pedro Perez getting the nod for the small school.

The all-conference teams were named as well as Brian Morris was the lone male from both towns to be on the team and Leanne Harris was the lone female to be named to the team.

Mite C's lose despite strong effort

Mite Orange division leader Cape Ann and second place Wilmington Mite C Youth Hockey team visited the campus of Merrimack College this past weekend for the purpose of playing a game that had been previously postponed due to a snow storm.

Cape Ann netted one goal in each period enroute to a 3-1 victory over the Wildcats. Wilmington recently plagued with difficulty clearing the puck out of their own end, could muster only one goal despite several golden scoring opportunities.

Cape Ann "broke the seal" on goalie Matt David's net on a break away in the first when a fleet forward skated past the Wilmington defense before depositing the puck in the Cat cage.

This would not be the last breakaway David would see this afternoon as he continued to sparkle in net. Wilmington enjoyed opportunities of its own but was not able to convert them into goals.

The Cape went ahead 2-0 in the second on a wild scramble in front of the Wilmington net. With no less than five players from both squads fighting for the puck in the crease, the goal light was illuminated when the puck slithered past the goal line. There was some question as to whether the puck was kicked in, but in the end the goal stood. No instant replay in Valley League Mite hockey!

Wilmington, realizing that they had been backed into a corner, responded in admirable fashion as Eric Raposo tallied in the third to bring Wilmington within striking distance. The one goal deficit remained in tact until Cape Ann again capitalized on Wilmington's inability to move the puck out of their defensive zone and restored their two goal lead with just over three minutes remaining.

The "never say die C's" still didn't pack it in as Matt David was brought to the bench in favor of an additional skater. Wilmington was again turned back by the superb goaltending of Cape Ann.

A diving Scott Sferrazza prevented an empty net goal as he knocked the puck off of the stick of a dumbfounded Cape Ann attack during the exciting last minute of play.

Although a little tentative and despite their defensive zone play, the Wildcats were in this game until the "fat lady sung." Jaclyn Rideout, Stephen Peterson, Marshall Nevins, and Michael McMahon checked in with solid performances as did Donny Heenan, Warren Fitzpatrick, Jay Surianello, Mike Welch, Jennifer Corcoran and Jamie Riopelle.

Hoop summer camp

The second annual Wildcat Basketball Camp will be offered in Wilmington this summer.

The camp will be run by varsity basketball coaches Jim McCune and Jim Tildsley. The camp dates will be July 10-14 for boys and July 17-21 for girls. The camp will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day. Ages for boys and girls are eight through 15.

Some of the camp features include: Camp t-shirt, staff consists of local high school coaches and college players, lectures by prominent high school and college coaches, age and ability grouping, drill stations, games, individual evaluation, hot shot competitions, one on one contests, foul shooting contests, camper of the day, indoor and outdoor courts.

For brochures and more information call Jim McCune 617-396-3812 or Jim Tildsley 508-470-1128. Brochures are also available at the Wilmington Athletic Office.

Sports Commentary

At least they are going out with some style

by James Pote

Everyone knows that I'm not a fan at all of Wilmington sports switching from the Merrimack Valley to the Cape Ann. But, I must say that so far this year Wilmington is leaving in style.

During the fall season, the WHS boys soccer team had a great match-up with Tewksbury to see who would walk away as small school champion. Tewksbury did 1-0. Besides Wilmington triple overtime tournament loss in the state tournament to Saugus, the Wildcat - Redmen game was the best soccer game I have witnessed.

On Turkey day, many football fans witnessed another exciting game where Tewksbury won the classic on a fake punt play. To put it simple, both the soccer and football games were very enjoyable to watch. Two very hard working teams, two enthusiastic crowds and two incredible games.

During this past winter's season, there was not much of a Wilmington -Tewksbury game to talk about. Sure, the hockey teams battled hard for two solid games with Tewksbury walking away with two victories, but if anyone was at UMass Boston this past weekend - it was probably the best back to back hockey games played in a long while. And that is something to talk about.

On Friday, Tewksbury matched-up with Lynn English and they walked away with a 2-1 victory. The Redmen were a much better team, maybe even superior than Lynn English, but Tewksbury just couldn't iron their type of play out - but a win is a win.

On Saturday, Wilmington faced future Cape Ann League opponent Masconomet who is loaded with talented underclassmen. Sophomore goalie Jason Dango was unbelievable as the majority of the play was down in Wilmington's end and Dango came up huge on everything. He made great glove saves, many left and right pad saves where he had to sprawl out to save the multiple shots coming from many pile ups in front of his net. If someone was filming the game, I would assume many of those saves would have made the ESPN plays of the week. Yes, he was that good.

With that, the game went into overtime where Masco won 1-0 with just 36 seconds into the extra tier of play. Even though all of the Wildcats fans were disappointed that the team lost, no one could be disappointed with the play of not only Dango but teammates Dan Abbott, John Considine and Ryan Haubner. Those four players played their hearts out and it showed.

Thus far, Wilmington's exit from the MVC has been near perfect. The games have been everything a sports fan could ask for. Just hopefully, there are a few more exciting Wilmington - Tewksbury battles in the spring.

It should be loads of fun.

Dell'Anno shines for Squirt B's

The Squirt B Wilmington Youth Hockey Team faced off with Beverly in Saturday morning's game.

Both teams were eager to win, but the Wildcats took control of the game. Sean Layton, who was assisted by Bobby MacIver put Wilmington on the scoreboard.

Both teams had plenty of shots at the net throughout the period, but neither team could capitalize on it. Beverly kept plugging away, but could not get the puck by goalie

John Dell'Anno. The first period ended in a 1-0 led for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats came on strong in the second period, with an unbelievable shot by James O'Neil, who was assisted by defenseman Danny Zuccaro, to make it 2-0 Wilmington. Shortly after, goal number three, scored by left wingman Stephen Smith, assisted by Brent Holloway. What a period for the Squirts.

As the third period began, one could feel the tension in the crowd. Beverly came out of nowhere to put them on the scoreboard. Making it Wilmington three and Beverly one at the end of the second period.

Wilmington didn't hesitate, goal number four scored by Sean Layton, who assisted by Ryan Boudreau, and here comes goal number five, scored by Stephen Smith who was assisted by Ryan Thibodeau. What a game for the Wildcats. The game ended in a five to one win for the Squirts.

In Sunday's game against Tewksbury, the Wildcats came into the game with determination. The first goal of the game was scored by Ryan Boudreau assisted by Sean Layton, but Tewksbury was quick to score a goal just a few minutes later.

Trying to keep ahead of Tewksbury, the Wildcats came back with another goal scored by Kyle Burns, assisted by Stephen Smith, but Tewksbury came back with two more goals to make it 3-2 at the end of the first period.

When the second period began, Wilmington came out with such determination to tie the game up. That determination paid off as goal number three for the Wildcats was scored by Bobby MacIver, assisted by Sean Layton. All of a sudden, Tewksbury came back with their fourth goal of the game, again getting ahead of the Wildcats.

In the beginning of the third period, Wilmington put the pressure on Tewksbury, making many shots at net, but just couldn't get the puck past their goalie. The game ended in a five to three win, Tewksbury.

Playing well for the Wildcats were John Conley, Ryan Gaudet, Mike Rideout, Tommy Irwin and goalie John Dell'Anno.

Squirt C's tie first place Methuen

Senior Matt Calandrello made two great rushes in the first period where he almost scored. Matt had a solid four year career at WHS. (Photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

by James Pote
The Wilmington Squirt C Youth Hockey team was in fourth place when they took on the first place Methuen team on Sunday evening. Thanks to a tremendous, gritty performance, the Wildcats are in third place and just one point away from second place.

Methuen jumped out to a 1-0 lead very early in the game. Just minutes later, Matt Collins scored one of his two goals on a breakaway, to even the score at one.

In the second period, Methuen put in two goals for a comfortable 3-1 lead. Wilmington continued to fight hard and they never gave up.

Early the third period, one of the assistant captains Steve Pellerin, made a brilliant rush from the red line all the way into on a breakaway where he made a great maneuver to put on a backhand, but he just didn't lift the puck enough as the Methuen goalie sprawled out to make a great save. And the game was still 3-1.

With about six minutes left in the game, Tim Rose continued to lead the team in goals and he came up with another big one as he netted a goal when he continued to dig hard on a nice wrist shot after a couple of rebounds.

Meanwhile, captain netminder Paul Sferrezza, who was playing in his second game of the day, was coming up huge with great stops when the team really needed it, to keep the lead at one goal.

With a minute and a half remaining on the clock, Wilmington tried to pull Sferrezza out of the nets. When he was half way to the bench, he had to sprint back because of a Methuen on coming rush. Then with 45 seconds remaining, Paul came out of the net and the Wildcats sent speedster and co-captain Tommy Doyle out as the extra man. Doyle along with Collins, Rose and linemate Chris Capozzi added a lot of pressure as Collins put in his second goal of the game to tie the game up at three with 22 seconds left on the clock.

This game was another non-stop back and forth exciting game for the Cats. Again, when this team wants to play they come out with a vengeance to take on any team there is. And once again it was a complete team effort.

The three lines played superb. The combination of Pellerin with Brian Gillespie and Billy Sinopoli continued to progress and look very sharp. All three of them have improved a lot and all three hustled every second of every shift.

Another combination of Tom Doyle with usual defensive Eric Jacobs and T.J. Duggan was another line who showed immediate connection when they played.

The third combo of Collins, Rose and Capozzi were reunited and all three of them put in super efforts as the tandem combined for all three goals.

The three defensemen continued to play outstanding. Tom Anderson, who just was put back on defense a few games ago, has continued to play extremely well. Mike Senarian and Stephen O'Dea continue to make spectacular defensive plays as well as great rushes.

A coach couldn't ask for any better effort then he received in this game.

Cardello ends strong

by James Pote

Former WHS boys hoop player Greg Cardello finished up his very impressive freshman basketball season at Salem State on Saturday night.

Salem who was ranked sixth in the division three poll, went up against the number one ranked Trinity College in Hartford Connecticut this past weekend. And what a game.

With three seconds remaining in the game behind a packed and very loud crowd, Trinity pulled away with a 93-90 victory to send them to further play and send Salem home after a very good season.

Cardello finished the night with 15 points, 16 rebounds and two blocks for a team which ended up at 21-7, which included being the MASCAT champion at 11-1 and a fifth appearance in the past six years of the NCAA Division three tourney.

Cardello was the first freshman under head coach Jim Todd to walk away with an all tournament selection in a tournament earlier in the year held in Colby, Connecticut, as well as being named to the second team all conference squad and finally being named Salem's co-freshman player of the year.

Refs, Blueliners taking fun out of game

by Donnie Ahern

This week in the Wilmington Adult Hockey league play there were a few complaints with the jobs of the referees. Since when is that something new. It seems that the majority of the referees just want to get their money and to get the game over as quick as possible. That's fine - just as long as they are consistent with their calls. Enough with the referees, how about some hockey.

Last week, the Blueliners with their usual dirty type style of play, beat White Team by a goal. Some say that the Blueliners play a lot like the old Boston Bruins. They try to intimidate their opposing team as well as playing the cheap and physical game. Patback will be a lot of fun.

In other action, Outlaws beat the Ice Hogs 5-2. In the late game, the Red Team just nipped by the Chiefs 6-5 and Goldenstate overcame Team 8.

There are only five teams left in playoff contention and it looks as though the Outlaws will finish first again this year followed by Goldenstate, White Team, Blueliners and finally the Ice Hogs are still fighting for a playoff spot with only six games remaining.

D.A.R.E. vs. Wizards basketball game

The Tewksbury police D.A.R.E. All-Stars basketball team will take on the Harlem Wizards in a game on Friday, March 10, starting at 7:30 p.m. at Tewksbury Memorial High School. The public is invited.

Officer Bob Westaway, who runs the Tewksbury D.A.R.E. (or Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program, said there is no admission cost for the game.

Banda leads offensive attack

Wilmington Pee Wee B Youth Hockey team played three games this month.

The first was on February 12, and it was against Cape Ann. Scoring in the game were Robert Garrett, John O'Neil and Erik Banda. Assists in the game went to Michael Montalto, John O'Neil and two for Erik Gustafson.

Wilmington came out victorious with a 3-1 win.

The next two games were between Wilmington and No. Middlesex and each team picked up a game in the win column.

Wilmington took the first on February 19 at Merrimack. Eric Banda scored two goals and an assist. Michael Montalto also picked up a goal and assist. The other goals came by Adam Jervis and Andrew Campbell.

The assists came from Erik Gustafson, Michael Petroulas and Scott Buck. Wilmington came out of this one with a 5-2 win.

At the end of the week Wilmington faced off again at Ristuccia Rink with No. Middlesex although they came out shorthanded and were defeated, their first time with a score of 5-4.

Wilmington did manage a goal in the first period. Erik Banda battled in the right corner and swept the puck over to an open Erik Gustafson as he found his first goal of the season but the Pee Wee's were down by one goal after the first period.

In the second period Wilmington couldn't generate any offense or defense for that matter as they let No. Middlesex score on two opportunities and closed the second period with a 4-1 lead.

Wilmington waiting too late in the game, started to crank up the offense, formed a power line to come out and score some goals. With less than five minutes left in the game the combination of Mike Petroulas and Eric Banda scored to make it 4-2.

Wilmington coaches pulled the goaltender for the extra player Adam Jervis who scored on a pass from Petroulas to make it 4-3.

Wilmington realizing the need for one more to tie this game made a decision to keep the extra player on, unfortunately they lost possession of the puck and No. Middlesex got an empty netter to make it 5-3.

Even though the game was nearly over the talent of the Wilmington Pee Wee's were stronger than ever and Eric Banda lead the way as he picked a second goal assisted by Brian LeBlanc and Scott Buck to close the game out at 5-4.

Plans are in full swing for the first annual Winchester Hospital Golf Classic to be held Monday, Oct. 2 at the Winchester Country Club. The 1995 Golf Classic Committee under the leadership of chair, Richard Sayre, and vice chair, Craig Gibson, recently gathered at the Winchester Country Club to discuss plans. Sitting (l-r) are Jay Boylan, Sayre Gibson, Roy Johnson, Peter McNally; standing (l-r) Peter Segerstrom, Diane Donnellan, Joe Tarby, Dan Bloodwell, Jack Carucci, Richard Fougere, Bill Hood, Steve Maskell, Marie Montouri, Lou Gentile and Dick Ockerbloom. Other members of the committee include Joe Bonasera, Joe Cleary, Peter Collins, Tim Connelly, Mark Donahue, Brian Donnelly, Will Fuller, Stephen Laverty (president of Winchester Hospital), Donald Martin, Bill McCall, James McDonough, Carmine Morreale, Inge Mulvaney, Jerry Murray, Eick Norberg, John O'Grady, Gerry O'Neil, Rich Salter and Deborah Trask.

Lifeguard course being offered

The Greater Lawrence Technical School and the Merrimack Valley Red Cross will sponsor the New Lifeguarding Course starting March 27 at 2:45 p.m. at the 57 River Road, Andover pool site.

Instructor Marilyn Fitzgerald has targeted this course for area high school students getting ready for the summer lifeguard employment season.

Ms. Fitzgerald notes that the objectives are for course participants to develop the knowledge and skills necessary to keep patrons of aquatic facilities safe in and around the water. All candidates must meet the pre-requisites of a 500 yard continuous swim, a two minute legs only tread and be at least 15 years old.

The course also includes certification in Standard First Aid and CPR for the professional rescuer. Contact the Red Cross at 372-6871 or Ms. Fitzgerald at the Technical School, 686-0194.

25th annual golf tournament

April first and second is the weekend for the 25th annual spring golf tournament to benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defect Foundation. This event is traditionally the first of the Cape Cod golf season and heralds the arrival of spring for area golfers.

The tournament attracts 350 golfers from all over New England to play in the two day event at Bass River Golf Course in South Yarmouth and Dennis Pines Golf Course in Dennis.

The format for the event is a 36 hole medal play, full handicap, two ball best. There is a maximum of 18 strokes per day.

Golfers competing for two ball best prizes must have an MGE or club handicap. For those without a handicap, the Calloway system will be used. Calloway is an individual tournament, not two ball. The tournament is designed to attract golfers of all abilities for a weekend of fun and golf on Cape Cod.

Preregistration is required. The cost is $100 per person for the two days of golf and includes a buffet supper on Saturday, clam chowder both days, an awards ceremony on Sunday, $2000 worth of golf prizes and a tax deductible donation to the March of Dimes.

For more information, entry forms, please call the March of Dimes office at 508-790-1093.

Up to his old tricks
"I have a great recipe"

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

"I have a great recipe for you, boys and girls. It's an awesome recipe. Let me tell you what's in the soup."

North Reading resident John Kelleher is up to his old tricks again.

Hat tricks.

This time around, he's heading south for a performance in Reading on Friday evening, March 10th.

Bear-headed. Guitar in hand.
Singing about supper.

"There's chicken lips and lizard hips and alligator eyes. Monkey legs and buzzard eggs and salamander thighs. Rabbit ears and camel rears and tasty toenail pies. You stir them all together and it's mommy's soup surprise."

The ingredients are there, all right - lyric, lesson, laugh - and matching hats - to complement every serving. Simply stir in the music and the smile, peppered with pizzazz. Add one intergenerational audience, brimming with enthusiasm. And enjoy.

Kelleher, a.k.a. "Johnny the K," performs on a variety of fronts and a diversity of levels. "I want to do something that makes kids feel good about themselves," he says, "whether it's taking care of the planet or of themselves. I do musical comedy with a positive message."

With humorous, funny, downright silly lyrics. And a foot-stomping, hand-clapping, kneeslapping, pop tune, calypso, rap, rock 'n' roll beat. Belafonte, Elvis, M.C. Hammer. Spontaneous, impromptu, energetic. Careful, thoughtful, charismatic. Well-versed and sound-effective.

"Party in the Park," Kelleher's audio cassette, is a fine example of his multi-faceted repertoire, ranging from "I am a Pizza" and "I Wanna Be a Dog" to "Dirt Made My Lunch" and "Uh-Oh Accident": "I sat in the yard, got attacked by ants. Uh-oh, acci-dance. Ants in my pants, acci-dance."

To "E-C-O-L-O-G-Y" and "Someone's Gonna' Use It After You": "You're standing at the sink. Did you ever think about the water runnin' down the drain? That it used to be in the deep blue sea, and before that, it was rain. Then it turned to snow for an Eskimo to use in a snowball fight. Then it floated south 'til it reached your mouth to help you brush your teeth tonight."

To "Costume Party": "You wear a blue dress. You wear red sneakers. You wear a shirt and tie. You wear flowers and you wear stripes. You wear make-up on your eyes. You wear black skin and you wear white. Your head is clean and bare. You poke holes in your earlobes. You got a wart, I bet, somewhere. Or maybe you dye your hair. You may be blind or you wear glasses. I stuttered when I talked. Sometimes our ears do not hear.

We use wheels if we can't walk. Your disguises could win prizes. Each one's qualified. The only thing that really matters is who we are inside."

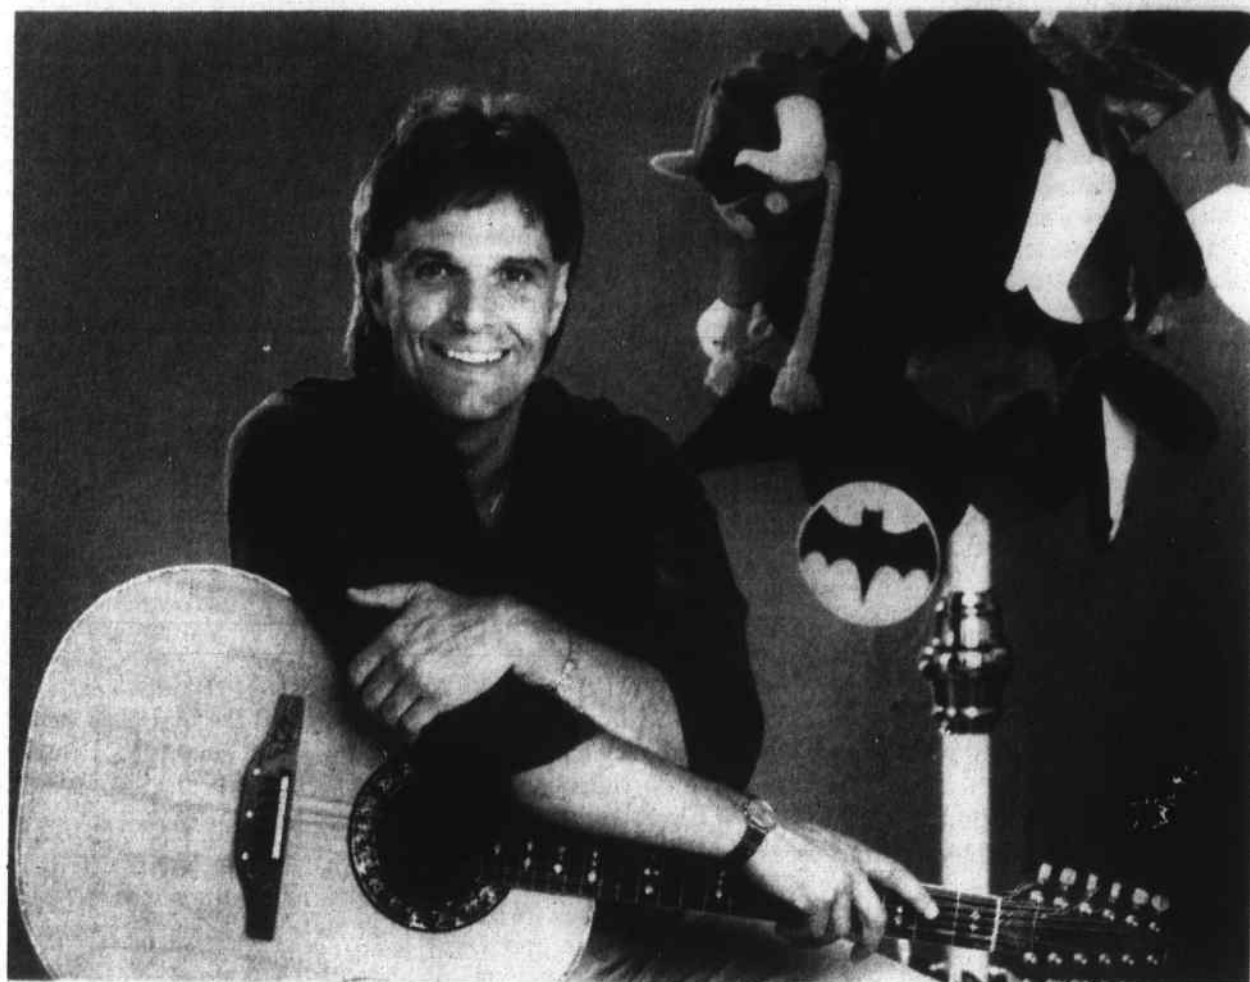

Positive messages are old hat to Johnny the K: he taught fourth grade in Everett for 10 years and knows about captive audiences. A Boston State College alumnus, he has been a musician for more than 16 years, performing at Children's Hospital in Boston for more than 10, both live and on the hospital's in-house television network. He hosted the "Children's Midday Show" and returns to Boston Children's to give live performances whenever his schedule permits.

“Back by popular demand” is a constant refrain on the Johnny the K hat parade. His fast-paced family music concerts are rocking audiences from New England to Pennsylvania, Alabama, Idaho, and Arizona. His ‘cap’tivating performances have been experienced by attendees at WBZ’s Concert on the Common, the Boothbay Children’s Festival, Bethlehem Musikfest, Emerson Umbrella, Longwood Gardens, Sugarloaf Mountain, and Georgia Love Festival, among many others.

The man has a bee in his bonnet, running his own hat racket via a one-man ... hat band. The 12-string guitar is decorated with all kinds of warm and fuzzy stickers, smiley faces, and environmental ad'visor'ies. He accompanies himself with 150-or-so hats, plus those which every audience member is encouraged to wear.

The headgear is as versatile as the man modeling it: talking horses, monkey masks, dolphin flippers, birds, bananas, batmen, and Santa Jaws in sharkskin. There's a hat with a "working" faucet to accompany the ditty

Johnny the 'K' S-4

JOHNNY THE K, a.k.a. John Kelleher, hangs his 150 hats in North Reading when he's not traveling across the country giving feel-good, fun, family performances. He'll be in Reading - hat and guitar in hand, voice in tune, brimming with enthusiasm - on Friday evening March 10th to give a concert sponsored by Understanding Handicaps. It is still possible to take advantage of reserved ticket rates but you must call immediately: (617)944-6909 or (617)944-1192.

ANTHONY MANCONI

ANTHONY MANCONI

Almost everyone in Woburn knows my friend, Joseph Altavesta. In fact there's a school named for his dear late mother. Well anyway, when Joseph was going to school, his teacher asked him one day, "Joseph, what do we have today that is very important that we didn't have 50 years ago?" Joe didn't hesitate a second shouting, "Me teacher!"

Folks, competition doesn't create character, it exposes it. A sore loser who throws his bat in the air after a third called strike, or a golfer who breaks a golf club after missing an easy putt and, a hockey player who whacks an opponent over the head with his hockey stick well their attitudes speak volumes for their character.

A politician who had changed his view rather radically was congratulated by a colleague who said, "John, I'm glad you've seen the 'light.'" I didn't see the, 'Light,' was John's terse reply. "I felt the 'HEAT."

Some houses are not built like they were years ago. Richie Rebidue of Lynnfield wanted to buy a house. He looked at many of them in the immediate area. He liked the design of one so, he jumped on the floor to test the stability, then he tapped on the living room wall. He didn't like the sound so he exclaimed, "we haven't got the wallpaper on yet!"

At kindergarten one day, the children sang, "The Old Gray Mare". Afterwards Miss Sullivan the teacher asked, "does anyone know what an old gray mare is?" Richie Hamel raised his hand then said, "I think it's the man in city hall who runs the city."

A young lad rang Bob Burns' doorbell, then said to Bob, "Mister Burns, my dad next door has to open a bottle but can't find a corkscrew and wants to borrow yours." "Okay," Bob replied, "you run along and I'll bring the corkscrew right over."

My violin teacher told my mother years ago, "after almost a year's lessons, your son doesn't even hold the bow right. Please take the advice of W.C. Fields who said, 'If at first you don't succeed- 'Quit' there's no sense being a darn fool about it!"

Red Cross offers babysitting course

Babysitting is a course prepared by the American Red Cross. Throughout this century the Red Cross has promoted the teaching of infant and child care skills in programs for expectant parents; new parents and other family members; for Red Cross disaster preparedness and relief workers; for providers of child day care; and for others responsible for the safety and development of children.

Several social trends are influencing the need for well-trained babysitters. More parents, both women and men, are working outside the home.

There are more single parents families. Older brothers and sisters often take responsibility for younger family members. Finally, the increased amount of child development and parenting literature available to the public has heightened concern for babysitters to provide both a safe and wholesome environment for children.

For young people, babysitting is one of the first opportunities to earn money and to learn job responsibilities. These young people need to know what to expect when they approach the job. What questions should they ask parents? How should they conduct themselves regarding the television set, telephone use, and snacks? What would they do in an emergency? How do they diaper infants? How do they play with children of different ages? How do they stay in control of the situation?

In some cases, participants in this course may be students preparing for day-care work or students caring for physically or mentally disabled children in the home. These students will need to know how to prepare for longer stays with children.

The American Red Cross will be sponsoring a babysitting class for 4 days, March 20 -23, from 3:30 to 6:30 pm at the Peabody office, 85 Lowell St.

For more info & to register, call 617-623-0033.

Health Center Open House

Winchester Hospital Health Promotion Center will host an open house on March 25 from 10 to 2 p.m. Residents are encouraged to come and check out the myriad health and wellness services provided for the Woburn community.

Free screenings for blood sugar, health course and tobacco control information will be offered as well as sign up for the hospital's comprehensive Nurses' Aide and Home Health Aide Training Programs. Face painting and various arts and crafts activities for children will be the highlight of the day. For further information, call 932-8200 or 756-2220.

Chronic Illness Support Group

A Chronic Illness Support Group is held on the third Tuesday of each month from 12-2 pm in the Social Services Department conference room at Winchester Hospital.

The group is free to the public and provides support to those living with a chronic illness. Call 756-2633 for more information.

Local children study disabilities

Youngsters of Puddle Duck Day Care in Woburn will learn about physical disabilities during the week of March 14 through a special Easter Seal program, sponsored by T J Maxx and Business Equipment Depot.

The Easter Seal HOP-N-ING teaches children about the causes of disabilities and their effects on people's everyday lives. The children also find out how wheelchairs, crutches and other specialized equipment work.

The next part of HOP-N-ING gives the kids a chance to help. They hop as many times as they can in three minutes, earning money pledged for each hop by family and friends.

Funds raised help provide Easter Seal services for men and women and children with disabilities.

Last year more than 16,000 children across Massachusetts learned about disabilities and hopped for Easter Seals, raising nearly $217,000.

Arm Your Child With VALUES

In today's world more than ever your child needs positive values and self discipline to succeed. Our unique Martial Arts Programs will teach your child a series of physical skills which will quickly translate into a feeling of confidence and high esteem. This in turn promotes self discipline and concentration which often pays off at school in the form of higher grades. Add to this a more positive attitude, acceptance of responsibility, and leadership skills, and you can see why so many parents feel that martial arts lessons are the best investments they have ever made for their child.

To find out how Martial Arts can help your child, Call Now!

I am young but not invincible. This I am wise enough to know. So many questions race through my mind about my mother. About me. About breast cancer. There's a history of it in our family. But the team at the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center explained during an evaluation there's a lot you can learn about breast health. They try to teach women not to be afraid but to know. The center has all sorts of material on the subject, even a nurse coordinator that I can call if I have a question or concern. One of these days, I may even take a class or a seminar. The more I know, the less I'll have to fear. I am young but not invincible.

Polymnia Concert

The Polymnia Choral Society, under the direction of James Reyes, is announcing its spring program for 1995. A concert of sacred music will be presented at 3:30 pm on Sunday, March 19 at the First Baptist Church of Malden, 493 Main Street.

The concert features the work of a soon to be master and two of the great masterworks of religious music. Guests will hear the exuberance of the twelve year old Mozart, the songful serenity of Schubert and the rhythmic dash and harmonic pungency of Stravinsky all revealing humanity's common longing for the Divine.

Following the sprightly Benedictus sit Deus of Mozart, Polymnia will sing Schubert's Mass in G, which has the freshness and charm of the composer at his most fluent. In Stravinsky's Symphony of Psalms, praise of God is painted in colors as striking as those in Russian ikon.

Polymnia director James Reyes, an active composer, conductor, pianist, organist and teacher, is in his fifth season with Polymnia. He is Assistant Professor of Composition at Berklee College in Boston, Choir Director of St. Peter's Church in Weston, and a resident of Melrose. Accompanist Terry A. Halco is an accomplished pianist, organist and choir director. He obtained his Bachelor of Music degree at Baldwin-Wallace College, and has pursued graduate studies at the New England Conservatory.

Tickets for the concert cost $8 at the door, with discounts for advance purchase. Senior citizens and students have a special $5 rate. To reserve tickets, call Stephanie Ackert at (617) 349-6204 or Mike Harris at (617) 665-2177.

Letter to the editor... Volunteer at the zoo

Dear Sir:

I recently had the opportunity to meet with Therese at the Franklin Park Zoo. This was my first visit to the zoo, but she helped make it very enjoyable. She introduced me to several members of the Volunteer and Zookeeping staff, as we strolled the zoo's very impressive African Tropical Forest Exhibit. One person I was introduced to was Cathy Acampora, Senior Zookeeper at the Children's Zoo. She has been with the zoo for about seven years now and finds the volunteer program "a fantastic, valuable asset." She considers the volunteers a "gift" to the zoo staff, who are then free to tend to other matters. She explained to me how the volunteers perform functions that the zoo cannot afford to pay a full-time staff member to do; such as brush the pony in the Children's Zoo.

Ms. Acampora exhibited great enthusiasm as she described the Franklin Park

Zoo's Junior Keeper program. This program enables High School students who feel they might be interested in working at a zoo, to work during the summer months along side a keeper. This is a very valuable program, in that it gives these students a picture of what a career as a zookeeper would be like, thereby helping them make informed career decisions.

I received many other positive comments from full-time staff members, such as Paul Luther, Senior Keeper of the African Tropical forest. He described the volunteer program as a "good program with dedicated people." Wendy from the Stone Zoo's gift shop, told me she thinks the program "is wonderful, but we don't have enough volunteers." The Stone Zoo's night attendant feels "the volunteers bring happiness to the zoo." I am certain those same volunteers also receive a lot of happiness in return.

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

First no walking, then no drinking

First, you can't walk at Burlington Mall on Sundays or Saturdays and then the Burlington Board of Health announces, according to the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," that test results indicate that in 1994, the average sodium concentration in the Burlington water supply was 37.4 parts per million (ppm).

Nazareth Academy Honor Roll

Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, Wakefield, is proud to announce the honor roll students for the second quarter. To qualify for FIRST HONORS, a student must achieve a grade point average of 3.8 or higher in her major courses. To qualify for SECOND HONORS, a student must achieve a grade point average of 3.6 or higher. To qualify for THIRD HONORS, a student must achieve a grade point average of 3.3 or higher.

Our Lady of Nazareth Academy is a Catholic, college preparatory high school for young women. Students from approximately 40 cities and towns undertake a rigorous program of studies, including college preparatory courses, honors courses and advanced placement courses.

In addition to their academics, students participate in a variety of extracurricular activities, including interscholastic sports, theater arts, social service activities, student government and literary publications.

FIRST HONORS 3.8 OR HIGHER

At least, there's parking

Although that concentration exceeds the maximum of 28 ppm recommended by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection, the sodium content of the local drinking water does not pose a health risk to the general public. However, individuals diagnosed with hypertension, cardiovascular conditions or individuals currently on a low-sodium diet should consult their physicians.

For more information, contact Todd Dresser at the Board of Health, (617) 270-1956.

And remember - Burlington offers the following attractions: Lahey Clinic, the B-Line, designated parking spaces for town officials at the mall (at least it did last time we peeked under the snow), and presumably, enough industrial-strength tax dollars to have a dynamite school system.

James Pierce, domestic violence is a crime, "no longer something to be dealt with by the family." Even verbal threats, he says in the "Daily Times Chronicle," are a crime.

Panel speakers suggested that Winchester, as a community, can educate service providers, especially health care providers to notice the signs of domestic violence, and its symptoms, such as difficulty remembering things, confusion, distortion of time, loss of faith, religious doubt, flashbacks, vomiting, sweating, dizziness, and headaches.

No restraint needed

Some times on Sunday: the Woburn Planning Board is planning for some fun times, having handed down favorable recommendations on carnival hours and dates. The first recommendation, an amendment to an existing ordinance allowing carnival operations on Sundays if the total run stays within a six-day limit, would allow Sunday carnivals from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. to avoid conflict with church services. The second will allow the Woburn Boys and Girls Club to operate a carnival at the Northeast Trade Center from May 9th to 14th. That's from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. on the 14th.

Quid pro quo?

"You don't really appreciate the status quo," says one reader, "until the quo is gone."

"About The Towns" covers recent events in the 13-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. All about ... North Reading

The cartoon in the North Reading "Transcript" depicts one Town Hall - with cannon to one side of it. And a voice emanating from Town Hall: "The state," it booms, "has just informed us that we are in violation of the new gun control regulations."

Restraint needed

In 1994, about 53 local women filed restraining orders against men, according to information presented in Winchester at a recent League of Women Voters panel on domestic violence. In 1993, 11 such orders were filed.

Nationally, the FBI reports a woman is battered in the United States every 12 seconds and 97 percent of domestic violence victims are women. The March of Dimes reports that domestic violence is the leading cause of birth defects.

Johnny the 'K'

about conserving water. A 10-gallon hat. And there's a hat not to be confused with chocolate mousse. It's the real thing, a moose, all right. Moose on head because ... when you wear so many hats, says Johnny the K, you have to do all you can to avoid a bad hair day.

Kelleher jumped onto the self-esteem band wagon almost before there was a wagon, and effervesced about the environment long before Earth Day became so popular. Teaching, music and comedy are some of his favorite things. "We all wear disguises," he says, "but what really matters is what is inside. We are all alike inside. We all have feelings. But outside we are different. Be proud of that: it's worth celebrating!"

Johnny the K will perform at 7 p.m. at Parker Middle School on Temple Street in Reading on Friday, March 10th. Doors open at 6:40 p.m.; seating is unreserved; everyone over the age of one year needs a ticket; and the show will be ASL-interpreted. The performance lasts about one hour but the K will be available before and after to interact with the audience. Tickets are $5 in advance, $6 at the door. Send a SASE with a check made out to Understanding Handicaps-Reading to Understanding Handicaps, P.O. Box 465, Reading, MA 01867. Call 944-6909 for more information.

Kelleher's "Party in the Park" is the winner of the Parents' Choice Gold Award and the first album produced by Bill Shontz of RosenShontz. It will be available at the performance, with some proceeds going to Understanding Handicaps.

This is a feel-good, not-to-be missed, take-your-favorite-kid - or any kid you can find - family event with something for everyone. Giggles without slapstick. Sensitivity with showmanship.

Guaranteed because ... the man wears many hats.

Folks, we should never settle for less than we have the potential to be. Maybe there's a lesson for all of us in the best selling book, "All I Need To Know, I Learned in Kindergarten."

Do you remember the lesson in rhyme? "The iddy bitty spider went up the water spout, down came the rain and washed the spider out. Out came the sun and dried up the rain and the iddy bitty spider went up the spout again." The spider had a problem but didn't give up.

The Shriners have a wonderful sense of humor. Bill Burton (a Shriner) said to me, "Woodchipper, the biggest saw I ever saw, was a saw I saw in Arkansas."

Years ago, in some cities and towns, the fire horns on top of the central fire stations, would blast out the number of the fire alarm box pulled. That's how, "Call Firefighter" knew by the number of blasts in what section of the city or town to respond.

I remember when my Aunt Nora called the fire station and said, "I want to report a fire." "Okay lady," the dispatcher said, "How do we get there?" "Good grief," Aunt Nora exclaimed, "Don't you have those big red fire trucks anymore?"

Many of you know that I love Ireland and its wonderful people. They have withstood the test of time. They have preserved against adversities, famine and religious persecutions. Their numerous ballads, songs and poems tell the story vividly of the struggle for survival.

I hope to return again someday to that land of saints and scholars. I'd like to see if that little brook is still leaping there, as it flows through Donnegal, Kilkenny, and Kildare. I want to watch as the sun goes down in Galway Bay, in that little bit of Heaven that fell out of the sky one day.

Third Annual St. Pat's Road Race in Malden March 12th

The City of Malden will host its third annual St. Patrick's Day Road Race on Sunday, March 12 at 1 pm. The race will benefit the city's Summer Youth & Recreation Parks Program.

The 3.1 mile (5k) race will start in front of Eastern Bank's offices at 94 Pleasant St. and will finish at My Honey Fitz, 142 Pleasant St. The course is flat, walkers and wheelchair entrants are welcome.

The road race will feature free raffles as well as trophies and medals for various finishers. There will be first, second and third place prizes for male and female runners in the following age categories: 18 and under, 19-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59 and 60 and over.

The following companies have made either cash or merchandise donations to this event: Lifeline Ambulance of Wakefield, Belmont Springs, Everett Sporting Goods, Liberty Jewelers of Malden, Malden YMCA, Prescott & Sons Insurance of Malden, Malden

Tobacco Control, Converse, Inc. and Star Market Plus.

For registration information call My Honey Fitz at 324-0111.

IRS changes procedures on taxes owed

The Internal Revenue Service is now calling delinquent taxpayers early in the collection process.

"Under its new collection notice procedure, the IRS will send delinquent taxpayers fewer collection notices over a shorter period of time before calling taxpayers to resolve collection issues. The IRS is adding over 700 employees to work these delinquent tax cases," said Francine Crowley, Boston IRS District Director.

The IRS will phone individual taxpayers who have not responded to three tax bills which were sent to them over a 16 week period. In the past, the IRS called delinquent busi-

Volunteers

From S-3

I was also very lucky to have had the opportunity to actually speak with two dedicated volunteers - Sandy Young from Franklin Park Zoo and Chris Heatle from the Stone Zoo.

Sandy has been a volunteer for six years now. She is a retired Career Advisor from UMass, who now finds joy in spending every other day, giving of her time to the zoo. She feels the full-time staff are "dedicated, hardworking people," but they need some help. She explained to me that "the zoo needs volunteers who can feel a dedication - a dedicated effort to the zoo." Your heart has to tell you to volunteer. She feels that the zoo provides an "exciting atmosphere," that almost anyone would enjoy working in.

My other friend is Chris Heatle, a fourteen year old junior high school student. He started volunteering this last July at the Stone Zoo and has so far put in a whopping 197 hours. Chris is a young man who loves the zoo, and already seems to know exactly what he wants to do with his life. He explained in great detail his interest in becoming either a Primatologist (one who studies and works with primates), or an expert on felines (large cats). Although the Stone Zoo does not have these types of animals, except for the Colobus Monkeys; he has become very knowledgeable on most of the other animals at the zoo.

The Franklin Park Zoo is also planning a feline exhibit in the not so distant future and Stone Zoo is planning a new penguin exhibit. Chris considers volunteering "fun and informative," and it gives you the opportunity to learn about different types of animals. Also, enjoyed by Chris has been free admission to both zoos and exciting field trips (some of the perks available to volunteers).

As you can see by the interesting individuals I have spoken to, becoming a volunteer at either the Stone Zoo, or the Franklin Park Zoo is a very enjoyable, worthwhile activity. Why not give a little bit of yourself to the zoo. What you receive back is a wealth of knowledge, and the satisfaction in knowing that you are helping educate our neighbors about the world we live in, while providing them with an enjoyable experience.

For further information regarding volunteer opportunities at either the Stone Zoo or the Franklin Park Zoo, please contact the manager of Volunteer Services.

EMPOWERMENT SERIES AT WINCHESTER

Winchester Hospital will offer a series of three sessions on empowerment strategies and techniques to use for your personal life, taught by Ann Gurka, RN, MS. Beginning on May 11 from 7 - 9 pm and running to the end of May, the series will be held at Baldwin Park II in the conference room on the third floor.

Cost of the program is $60 and "Becoming an Empowered Person" is program title for the first session; and "Empowerment, Stress Management and Visioning" is the final session. Preregistration is required by calling 756-2220.

FREE CROHN'S COLITIS MEETING

The Crohn's & Colitis Foundation of America Winchester group will have an education meeting on Thursday, March 30 from 7:30 to 8:30 pm in the Winchester Hospital cafeteria.

The speaker is Lauren Goldner who will give a nutrition update. The meeting is free. For further information, contact D.O'Neil or Peg Dwyer, RN, at (617)756-2040.

WILMINGTON AARP HOLDS MEETING

The Wilmington Area Evening Chapter of AARP is inviting anyone over age 50 to join on Wednesday March 15, at 7:30 pm at the Winchester Family Care Center, Rte 62 (Salem Street) Wilmington, for a most informative evening with Jean LeFavour of Stillwater Garden as our guest speaker. Jean is a local perennial grower and garden designer and has engaged the gardening challenge since 1983. Gardening's simple ingredients: plants, soil, sun, water, and fertilizer do not always produce our anticipated results; and the variables are what make gardening such a widely chosen avocation.

LeFavour, following hip replacement surgery in 1994 is re-entering her garden business with new approaches for low maintenance plantings and easier gardening for those mildly or moderately incapacitated. "What's New Under The Sun" will encourage different approaches to today's gardens.

Light refreshments will be served following our guest speaker. For more information on joining our new Evening Chapter, please call (508)658-2917 or (508)658-2938.

TEMPLE SHALOM HEALING SERVICE

On Thursday, March 9th at 7:30 pm, the Temple Shalom, located at 475 Winthrop Street (Route 38) in Medford, invites the community at large to share in an evening of music, meditation, readings, and hands on healing, when it celebrates its third Healing Service of the new year.

For more than a year, individuals of every age, race and creed have been gathering at Temple Shalom to participate in and receive the gentle, caring, re-energizing experience the Healing Services offer.

Led by Rabbi Bernard Stefansky and noted local healer Rhoda D. Zagorsky, the Healing Services blend a variety of readings, meditations and songs performed by Joyce The Voice and Matia Angelou to create a relaxed atmosphere of peace and tranquility.

The ancient art of hands on healing is also offered for those who want to receive the many benefits this gentle, non-invasive method of healing provides. Anyone interested is invited to call Temple Shalom at 396-3262 or Rhoda D. Zagorsky at 395-5680. A nominal donation of $5 per person is suggested and all proceeds benefit Temple Shalom.

CHUNG MOO TAI CHI OFFERED
Take time to invest in good health. The Winchester Hospital is now offering a beginners course in T'ai Chi, a gentle Chinese exercise intended to maintain the body's natural balance.

T'ai Chi practice promotes over all good health and helps participants achieve the physical and mental well being necessary to pursue goals and reduce mental fatigue, tension and black belt in Chung Moo Marital Arts.

T'ai Chi will be offered on Mondays starting March 13 from 5-6 pm for beginners; 6-7 pm for intermediate at the Winchester Hospital Family Medical Center. The cost is $50 which includes the price of a video tape. For more information, call the Community Health Institute of (617)756-2220.

MARBLE DUST AND MAGIC LAKES

Largely ignored or overlooked in the study of American folk art, sandpaper paintings were produced by the thousands in mid-19th century America. Marble Dust and Magic Lakes; American Sandpaper Paintings from the Collection of Randal and Tanya Holton opening at the Museum of Our National Heritage, is the first significant study of these works and their enduring impact, both as art and cultural artifacts. More than 75 sandpapers paintings give visual explanation of the dramatic power possible with charcoal and chalk.

The works chosen capture the thematic range of the media and include Biblical, historical, memorial and allegorical scenes.

Marble Dust and Magic Lakes opened at the Museum on March 5 and can be seen through October 1.

The Museum of Our National Heritage is located at 33 Marrett Rd in Lexington at the corner of Rte 2A and Massachusetts Avenue. The Museum is open Monday through Saturday 10 am 5pm; Sunday, Noon - 5pm. Admission and parking are free.

GIVE ABILITY A CHANCE

With U.S. Savings Bonds, the more you give, the more you receive.

Giving U.S. Savings Bonds passes an important lesson on to the future generation. Bonds can teach our children how to save, how interest grows and how a small investment can help make their dreams come true.

So share the tradition of U.S. Savings Bonds. They're the gift that gives back more than you've given.

Showdown at high noon?

Reading opts for lone star state

Having forgotten that in August they appointed Parker Middle School Principal - and past president of the international National Association of Secondary School Principals - Dr. Jack Delaney interim superintendent should Superintendent of Schools Dr. Robert Munnely retire, the Reading School Committee recently opened up an internal search for interim candidates.

They received two applications.

One applicant withdrew at high noon.

The Reading School Committee recently appointed lone candidate Assistant Superintendent of Schools Dennis Richards interim superintendent, effective April 30th. "This is an important role," says Richards, in the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," "and I think I'm up to it."

Meanwhile, the committee has chosen Winchester Associates to conduct a $5,000 or so nationwide search for a new superintendent. That group was chosen, according to the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," because of its experience, location and accessibility.

At the same meeting, the committee members voted 4-2 to seek a $1 million override for the schools. Because they did not have enough votes to do so at their previous meeting, they missed the opportunity to ask that the override be included in the regular town election. Should such an override be in the cards, it would now require a costly special election.

The cards haven't all been dealt yet though. At the Selectmen's meeting the following night, Selectman George Hines described the School Committee action as "wildly irresponsible." The Selectmen, however, according to the "Chronicle," were willing to meet with Committee members to discuss the situation. Stay tuned for details of the showdown.

Burlington names five-star generals

The following Burlington students have been named five-star generals in the Pine Glen Elementary School's Reading Corps Program: Melissa Modesto, Melanie Modesto, Jenny Porfert, Melissa Anderson, Jay Juntoon, Celina Doucette, Ben McMillan, Chris DiDonato, Christopher Catatao, Sean Connell, Patrick Bevington, Sean Larson, Matt Daniels, Adam Rosenbaum, Derek Wagner, Leah Rosenbaum, Robyn Maguire, Sheldon Calero, Jackie Sullivan, Brian Feeley, Rachelle Caves, Domenic Bevington, Jacqui Riley, Andrew Dunn, Kathleen Lambert, Michael Ostlund, Natalina Bombaci, Julianna Leone, Justin Pedersen, Megan Lynch, Meghan Kelly, Joey Feeley, Jeana Marrama, Brian Heck, Carolyn Healey, Samantha Calero, Gina Magliozzi, Samantha Gude, and Kathlene Murray - for the second time.

As part of their core reading, they are encouraged to read at home for pleasure and for a school T-shirt or cap.

Winchester speaks multicuture

Provided since 1982, English as a Second Language has reached Winchester students from more than 25 countries.

Students travel to Winchester, according to the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," with parents who come to do medical research, complete advanced studies, and make high tech' career contacts and fulfill contracts, as well as for a variety of other reasons. They choose, notes the "Chronicle," to "live here because of the reputation of our school system."

Dorothea Casco teaches ESL at the high school on a daily basis and Helen Ryan tutors middle and elementary school students from one to four hours a week. The students typically face more difficulties than being the new kids on the block: they have to adjust to a new language and an unfamiliar culture.

Winchester's Multicultural Network (617-729-8063) and the Winchester-based Eastern Massachusetts Literacy Council (617-729-9242) work directly with residents for whom English is a second language. The network offers multicultural workshops on understanding personal reactions to those perceived as different, and sponsors the Multicultural Issues Group at the high school, which fosters a buddy system for foreign families. The EMLC provides free one-on-one tutoring to adults by trained volunteers and includes more than 20 active volunteers, including those who work with staff from Winchester Hospital.

Seminar on Title 5 septic regulations

The Realtor Community Service Committee of the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors are inviting local residents to an upcoming Public Seminar on the New Revisions to Title 5 Septic Regulations, to be held on Wednesday, March 15 at 7 p.m. at the Hillview Country Club, 135 North Street, North Reading.

Guest Speakers scheduled are local Attorney Chris Coleman, local Septic Installer, Warren Pearce and North Reading's Board of Health Agent, Martin Fair.

On September 23, 1994, the Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") issued final revisions to Title 5 of the State Environmental Code governing siting, construction, repair and replacement of on-site subsurface sewage disposal systems ("septic systems"). The regulations will become effective on March 31, 1995.

Although the Regulations are more restrictive than the existing Title 5 regulations in certain respects, they will allow a more flexible and innovative approach to design based on analysis of soils and hydrogeologic characteristics of a site. The Regulations will allow shared septic systems for new construction and remediation of substandard systems. DEP will require users to implement controls to ensure maintenance, repair and replacement.

For any application to construct a septic system filed after March 31, 1995, the applicant will be required to comply with the Regulations. City or town regulations which are less stringent than the Regulations may not be applied to new construction or repair or replacement after March 31, 1995.

Effective July 1, 1995, each application for a permit must include an evaluation by a DEP

MOVIES

"Roommates", Short Takes

"Roommates" Starring Peter Falk, D.B. Sweeney, Julianne Moore, Jan Rubes, Ellen Burstyn. Directed by Peter Yats. Produced by Ted Field, Scott Kroopf, Robert Cort. Screenplay by Max Apple, Stephen Metcalfe. Rated PG.

After the funeral of his daughter-in-law, an aged Polish baker listens with disgust as his children plan to stick his now orphaned grandchild into a home. Rocky, this irascible, wrinkled little man, marches into the kitchen and announces that his grandson Michael will live with him. "Conversation over," he barks. Everyone listens.

The amazing thing is that this man will live over 30 more years, and Peter Falk's performance gives you the impression that the guy was just too stubborn to die. The grandson, played by D.B. Sweeney as an adult, picks up this trait, as well as a relentless work ethic, as their love/hate relationship work its way through several decades.

As time progresses and Michael works his way through years and years of medical training to become a heart surgeon, he finds he must take the old fellow along with him. Moving his grandfather into a basement apartment and a whole new lifestyle provides for a humorous situation, but it all feels a little too cute. And when Rocky takes a strong dislike to the woman Michael is falling for (Julianne Moore) you may find you are not at all surprised. In fact, it is not until the film's final 30 minutes that the emotional impact of the story begins to break free of prefab plot constraints that generally ring quite hollow.

The movie is based on Max's best-selling book "Roommates," which really is about his grandfather. But when the book was adapted for screen, Apple and co-writer Stephen Metcalfe toned down the old geezer. There are too many warm and fuzzy moments, too many scenes in which the story is predictable sentimental. The end result is an unexceptional drama about role reversal and the ties that bind you.

Performances and characterization are what make this movie come to life, as Falk and Sweeney brings us into the story as they gently shift caretaker roles. Falk, who is only in his sixties, convincingly ages from 75 to over 100. He brings this maddening little guy to life and connects with his co-star, who is just as believable as a man who is more like his grandfather than he would care to admit.

Through he went for the obvious in too many scenes, director Peter Yats did capture the blue collar world of Pittsburgh. The neighborhood in which Michael is raised is one of the more interesting aspects of the first half of the story. The area is familiar, comfortably worn around the edges, and suits Rocky and his utilitarian lifestyle. Too bad Yats didn't dig a little deeper emotionally, or allow the situations to get a little messier, as the film would have benefited from a more realistic tone.

Short Takes

The Brady Bunch Movie is a groovy surprise in that it's clever without being self-conscious. The gags are a scream because the movie recognizes the general weirdness that was Brady. Remember, these folks lived on Happy Planet all the time. Director Betty Thomas takes all that euphoria and tunnel vision and transfers it into the manic, angry '90s. This flick may be short on plot and long on polyester, but it is also rife with humor aimed at the general public and in-jokes for those of us who grew up with the Bradys. Rated PG-13. ***

Hideaway makes you wonder how some movies find financing. Based on a Dean R. Koontz novel, this horror flick looks great, yet completely lacks internal logic. Jeff Goldblum is brought back from the dead after an automobile accident, only to learn he has also brought extrasensory powers with him. Goldblum discovers he's psychically linked to a serial killer who is, naturally, after his daughter. Silly and stupid. Rated R. *

The Hunted is an amazing waste of time and indicative of Christopher Lambert's need for a better agent. In this chop socky fantasy, he plays a Western businessman chased across Japan after witnessing an assassination by Ninja warriors. The film lacks internal logic, the fight scenes feel too choreographed and Lambert is listless. Rated R. *

Just Cause is a fast-paced thriller that relies heavily on cliches and coincidence, but fall together by the end. Sear Connery is a Harvard Law prof who tries to save Blair Underwood, a Death Row inmate from the electric chair. The most interesting character is played by Laurence Fishburne, a southern police officer who is both corrupt and well-meaning. The always overlooked Ed Harris turns in another intense and intriguing performance. Rated R. ***

Nobody's Fool is a good movie made better by Paul Newman's charismatic performance. Newman is a 60 year old construction worker with a lousy job, a dysfunctional divorced family, and a bum knee. But he also has a strong sense of self and knows how to apply humor to his dead-end life. The movie

Classic guitarist performs

Terrence Farrell

Terrence Farrell, who has won international acclaim as a classical guitarist, will be performing on Friday, March 10 at 7:45 at Stoneham High School.

is a string of vignettes that needed a little more cohesion, but Newman, along with Jessica Tandy, Melanie Griffith, and Bruce Willis help make this a working class treat. Rated R. 1/2

The Quick and the Dead could have been filmed in the Twilight Zone. It's riddled with black humor, clever camera tricks, intelligent dialogue and intriguing characters. Sharon Stone is an avenging gunslinger with a glint in her eye and a chip on her shoulder who rides into the town of Redemption looking for a piece of the malevolent Gene Hackman. Rated R. ****

* excellent
 good  fair

Farrell, who is known for being an outstanding entertainer as well as guitarist, has performed in 24 countries from Europe to the Far East. He has also played twice for American presidents and has been a guest performer on the Queen Elizabeth II's world cruise. In addition, Farrell is one of only a few select artists who tours for the U.S. State Department as part of "Arts America."

At Stoneham High School, Farrell who has been praised by many for his versatility, will be playing everything from Gershwin, including Rhapsody in Blue, and Mason Williams' Classical Gas.

Individual Tickets can be purchased at the door for $15. For more information about the concert or subscribing to the Greater Stoneham Community Concert Series, contact Lola Freeman, 617-438-0835; Stephanie Maughan, 617-932-9989; or Nancy Leavitt, 617-944-5262.
